

Biography for Cori Sabet

Cori Sabet is the Program Manager for the Governmentwide Acquisition Management Intern Program at the Department of the Interior University. She recently joined DOI University in December of 2002, so she is a newcomer to both federal service as well as the acquisition field.

Prior to starting at the U.S. Department of the Interior, Cori worked for a private non-profit organization as the director of a group home for severely mentally ill adults in Fairfax County, Virginia. In this position, she ran the day-to-day operations of the group home, provided counseling to the residents, and supervised the mental health professionals who provided services within the home.

Cori also has had a variety of experiences in the field of human resources. She has worked as a human resources manager at a law firm in Washington, DC, supervising legal secretaries, doing legal recruiting and consulting with staff on human resource issues. In addition, Cori has also worked as a consultant for a human resources consulting firm and as a career consultant at Georgetown University, providing career-counseling services to students and alumni of the university.

Cori holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in English Literature as well as a Master of Arts degree in Counseling Psychology. She is currently pursuing a post-masters certificate in Organizational Development.
