Small and Micro Business Lending for 2003-2004

Office of Advocacy, U.S. Small Business Administration

The Office of Advocacy prepares an annual study of bank lending to small firms using the most recent data available on small and micro business loans. This study provides a brief review of banks' lending activities in 2003-2004 based on two types of data reported by banks to their regulating agencies—the call reports for June 2004 and the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) reports for 2003. Because data are available only by the size of the loan, not by the size of the borrower, small business loans are defined here as business loans under $1 million, and micro business loans are those under $100,000. The report includes a discussion of developments in the small and micro business lending activities of commercial banks in the United States. In part one, the first section reviews developments apparent in the call report data (June 2003 through June 2004); the second section looks at developments evident from the CRA database for the year 2003. Part two provides directories of the top small and micro business lenders in the 50 states and District of Columbia using both the call report and CRA data.

Highlights

- Borrowing from banks continued to recover from 2002-2003, registering a moderate increase. Small business loans outstanding (under $1 million) totaled $522 billion as of June 2004, an increase of $27.2 billion or 5.5 percent between June 2003 and June 2004. This compares with an overall increase of 2.3 percent over the previous period. Overall business loans also increased; the total value of business loans increased 4.2 percent to a value outstanding of $1.38 trillion from $1.32 trillion the year before.
- The increases came primarily from the larger small business loans ($100,000 to $1 million). The values of medium-sized small business loans

($100,000 to $250,000) and large small business loans ($250,000 to $1 million) increased 4.95 percent and 8.4 percent, respectively. The number of these loans also increased 4.95 and 8.5 percent, respectively, during this period.

- As in the previous periods, lending of the smallest loans showed the least activity during this period. These declines, though smaller than in the previous year, occurred in both the dollar amount and number of loans outstanding. The number of the smallest business loans outstanding declined from 14.1 million to 13.6 million, a 3.6 percent drop, while the dollar value declined from $125.7 billion to $125.3 billion in June 2004, a decline of 0.31 percent. As in previous years, these declines appear to be an accounting phenomenon, not an indicator of a significant trend.

- In 2003, a total of $248 billion in small business loans under $1 million were extended by 998 CRA-reporting banks and bank holding companies, compared with $227.5 billion extended by 905 entities in 2002. For micro business loans, these banks and bank holding companies made 5.6 million loans valued at $78 billion in 2003, compared with 5.3 million loans valued at $73 billion in 2002. The CRA data confirm the findings in the call report data of the importance of multibillion dollar banks and bank holding companies in the market for the smallest loans, and also their declining share of the larger small business loans ($100,000-$1 million).

- Bank consolidations continued during June 2003 and June 2004 as indicated by the large increases in total domestic assets for several large bank holding companies. The number of multibillion dollar banks and bank holding companies (with total domestic assets of more than $10 billion) increased from 67 to 72 by June 2004; they accounted for 75.3 percent of total banking assets and 63 percent of total business loans. However, the importance of these entities in the small business loan markets varied. While, their importance in the market for micro business loans continued to increase, accounting for 50 percent of the market in value and 67 percent in the number, bank holding companies remained passive in promoting larger small business loans (between $100,000 and $1 million). The share of these banks in this market remained almost unchanged, in both amount and number of loans, in spite of their increased asset share from June 2003 to June 2004.

Scope and Methodology

This study provides a review of the banks' lending activities in 2003-2004 based on two types of data reported by banks to their regulating agencies—the call reports for June 2004 (for the amount and number of outstanding loans) and the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) reports for 2003 (for loans made during the year). Since the reported data are available only by the size of the loan (not by the size of the business), small business loans are defined as business loans under $1 million. Micro business loans are defined to include loans under $100,000. Developments in lending activities over time by banks are analyzed based on the call report statistics for various variables. However, because of the changing number of banks required to report under the CRA reporting requirements (some 1,000 large banks and bank holding companies are required to report under the CRA), year-to-year changes in the lending activities for these banks are more difficult to interpret.

Large banks and bank holding companies with total domestic assets greater than $10 billion are ranked and reported separately, under the presumption that they serve a national market. Rankings by state are made for all "reporting" banks on the basis of the designated headquarters state of the reporting bank. Two ranking methods are used, depending upon the availability of data.

For banks where information for total assets and total business loans are available (those filing call reports), four criteria are used as the basis for a bank's performance ranking. A summary rank for four decile ranks is computed for each bank in the state rankings. A decile ranking is first used for individual criteria; decile rankings range from 1 to 10. Banks in the top 10 percent of all banks in the state receive the maximum score of 10; banks in the lowest 10 percent receive a score of 1. Banks that do not lend to small businesses (loans under $1 million) receive a 0. Four top scores will sum to 40. To make the top score total 100 rather than 40, each score is multiplied by 2.5.

For state lending using the CRA data, banks were listed in order of the dollar amount of small business loans made in each state in 2003. Large institutions therefore appear at the top. Simple rankings were used for multibillion dollar banks and bank holding companies because only a small number of banks are involved.

Foreword

I am pleased to provide the latest edition of the Office of Advocacy's annual study of bank lending to small and micro businesses. The report covers both small business lending (loans of less than $1 million) and micro business lending (loans of less than $100,000) for all reporting banks and for multibillion-dollar bank holding companies for the 2003-2004 period. The source information consists of two types of data reported by banks to their regulating agencies—call reports for June 2004 and the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) reports for year 2003.

The report provides data on the top banks lending to small businesses in each state. Advocacy's website contains additional data listing the lending activity of all banks in the 50 states and the District of Columbia. The report is useful to both small businesses seeking loans and banks comparing themselves to their competition. I encourage readers to use this as a resource—and I congratulate the banks that are doing a good job of meeting the need for capital in the small business community.

The lending studies may also be viewed on the Office of Advocacy's homepage, www.sba.gov/advo/research/lending.html. ## Introduction

Access to credit is vital for small business survival. The most important institutional supplier of credit to small firms is the commercial banking system, according to the 1998 Survey of Small Business Finances (SSBF). Of a total of $700 billion in small business credit outstanding from all credit sources at the end of 1998, commercial banks supplied 57 percent, compared with 12 percent supplied through owners' loans and 11 percent from finance companies.<sup>1</sup>

Critical to the health and growth of a small business is knowledge of how banks are meeting small firm credit needs and which banks are investing in small businesses. Such information helps small businesses save precious time and shop efficiently for credit. It also helps banks to know about the competition in the markets in which they participate.

This annual edition of Small Business and Micro Business Lending in the United States provides current data on small and micro business loans to small firms and on the banks that serve them. The study continues to combine studies on both small business and micro business lending to provide a brief review of these lending activities in 2003-2004. The study is based on two types of data reported by banks to their regulating agencies—the call reports for June 2004 and the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) reports for 2003. Data are available only for the size of the loan and not for the size of the business. As such, the following definitions are used:

- Small business loans are defined as business loans under $1 million.
- Micro business loans are defined as business loans under $100,000.

Part One discusses developments in small and micro business lending activities by commercial banks in the United States. The first section discusses developments apparent in the call report data; the second section discusses developments based on the CRA database.

Part Two provides directories of the top small and micro business lenders in the states using both the call report and CRA data. For the reader's convenience, national tables for multibillion-dollar banks and bank holding companies (BHCs) are presented before state tables for all banks, not because BHCs are more important in small business lending, but because the tables for them are shorter.

While these two databases have limitations as indicators of both the supply of loans from commercial banks and the small business demand for bank loans, their usefulness cannot be denied—they are the only publicly available sources of information on the small business lending activities of individual banks.

Part One: Developments in Small and Micro Business Lending

I. Findings from the June 2003-June 2004 Call Reports

A. Small Business Loans Outstanding from All Reporting Banks

Borrowing from banks continued to recover from the previous year, increasing moderately. Overall, small business loans (under $1 million) by commercial banks showed moderate increases between June 2003 and June 2004. The rate of growth in the dollar amount of all small business loans outstanding increased 5.5 percent, from $495 billion in June 2003 to $522 billion in June 2004. By comparison, small business loans grew by 2.3 percent from June 2002 to June 2003 (see Tables A, B, and C). The increase was comparable to the annual increases in borrowing between June 2000 and June 2002. The increases came primarily from the larger small business loans ($100,000 to $1 million). Medium-sized small business loans ($100,000 to $250,000) and large small business loans ($250,000 to $1 million) increased 4.95 percent and 8.4 percent, respectively (Table B). The number of these loans also increased 4.95 and 8.5 percent, respectively, during this period (Table C). The value of all business loans also increased more than in the previous year, from $1.32 trillion to $1.38 trillion, up 4.2 percent. Corporate borrowing in loan sizes over $1 million resumed, but increased at lower rates than borrowing from alternate sources in the public credit markets. As in the previous year, statistics for the smallest loans told conflicting stories, with the slight decline in loans outstanding shown in the Call report contradicted by the increased volume of lending activities shown in the CRA data.

B. Total Micro Business Loans Outstanding in the United States

Changes in the value and the number of the smallest size loans (under $100,000) remain difficult to interpret because of continued efforts by major small business credit card issuers to consolidate their data reporting. Further complicating interpretation are the merger and acquisition activities of credit card institutions, as well as credit card operations among commercial banks, federal saving banks, and commercial finance companies.<sup>2</sup> During 2003-2004, the number and the dollar amounts of loans under $100,000 declined further, although at lower rates than in the previous year. The number of these smallest business loans outstanding declined from 14.1 million to 13.6 million, a 3.6 percent drop; the value declined from $125.7 billion to $125.3 billion in June 2004, a decline of 0.31 percent (Tables B and C). These declines appear, again, to be an accounting phenomenon.<sup>3</sup> Moreover, it appears that most major small business credit card lenders continued to promote small business credit cards and reported continued increases in the number and dollar amounts of the smallest loans in the CRA report for loan activities in 2003.<sup>4</sup> Statistics from the 2003 CRA study indicated that the rates of increase in the number and dollar amounts of loans made in 2003 were comparable for the smallest loans (under $100,000) and medium-sized loans ($100,000 to under $1 million).<sup>5</sup>

<sup>2</sup> The importance of small business credit card accounts in this size category and the difficulty of separating credit card accounts from special purpose business lending contribute to the difficulty in interpreting the movement in lending activities for this loan size category.

<sup>3</sup> For example, continued efforts by banks such as BB&T to consolidate credit card accounts held by employees under the same employer and the accounts in FleetBoston Financial Corp. after merger with the Bank of America contributed much to adjustments. In addition, the numbers used in the analysis include adjustment in the statistics reported by American Express Centurion Bank, one of the largest business card issuers, because American Express has transferred most small business lending activities to a new federal savings bank since the beginning of 2004, thus not reported in the call report database utilized in this study. Without adjustment, statistics from June 2004 call report showed an even larger decline.

<sup>4</sup> Moreover, one major credit card bank, Capital One, reported in the CRA report (Federal Savings Bank file) large increases in the number and dollar amounts of loans made that are not captured in the call report data for commercial banks in this study.

<sup>5</sup> The rates of increase in the number and dollar amounts of loans for 998 BHC/banks for 2003 were 7.4 percent and 9.7 percent for the smallest and larger sized small business loans, as compared with a 7.7 percent increase in total domestic asset for the group.

C. Small and Micro Business Loans Outstanding from Multibillion-Dollar Banks and BHCs

Bank consolidations continued during June 2003 and June 2004 as indicated by the large increases in total domestic assets, in excess of 20 percent growth, for several large bank holding companies. The increasing importance of large banking institutions in the U.S. banking sector is indicated in Table D.<sup>6</sup> The number of multibillion dollar banks and bank holding companies (with total domestic assets of more than $10 billion) increased from 67 to 72 by June 2004. They accounted for 75.3 percent of total banking assets and 63 percent of total business loans. However, the importance of these entities in the small business loan markets varied. In the market for loans under $100,000, their importance continued to increase, accounting for 50 percent of the market in value and 67 percent in the number of loans in June 2004, as compared with 48 percent and 64 percent, respectively, in June 2003. This trend confirms the continued consolidation in the small business credit card market.

In the market for loans between $100,000 and $1 million, large banks remained passive in promoting business. Their share in this market remained almost unchanged, in both amount and number of loans, in spite of the increased asset share of these banks from June 2003 to June 2004. This poses the question of whether very large banks are moving away from higher-cost small business lending to lower-cost micro business credit card-credit line lending. It will be important to continue monitoring this development as banking concentration continues.<sup>7</sup>

<sup>6</sup> Table E is derived by combining the files of reporting banks and BHCs. Reporting members of a BHC are consolidated. The number of U.S. banking institutions as of June 2003 was 6,572: 1,575 non-BHC banks and 4,997 BHCs.

<sup>7</sup> Two Advocacy studies have found that lending to small businesses by very large banks declined as the pace of banking consolidation accelerated over the recent past. See P.M Keypoint (above) and S. Craig and P. Hardee, The Impact of Bank Consolidation on Small Business Credit Availability, under contract no. SBA HQ -01-R-0005 with the Office of Advocacy.

II. Findings from Reports by CRA Reporting Banks for 2003

A. Small Business Lending by CRA Reporting Banks and BHCs

CRA data provide information on the location of loans made by a bank or a BHC during a certain time period, for example, from January 1 through December 31 of the year. This section provides a profile of the overall activities in small business lending by large banks and BHCs reporting under the CRA program in 2003.<sup>8</sup> A comparison of the coverage of reporting institutions in the call reports (for all banks) and in the CRA reporting banks appears in Table E; these banks and bank holding companies accounted for 88 percent of total domestic assets and some 65 percent to 75 percent of small business lending in the U.S. banking industry.

In 2003, a total of $248.0 billion in small business loans under $1 million were extended by 998 CRA-reporting banks and bank holding companies, compared with $227.5 billion in 2002 (Table F) extended by 905 entities.<sup>9</sup> The CRA data confirm the findings in the call report data of the importance of multibillion-dollar banks and bank holding companies in the market for the smallest loans, and also their declining share of the larger small business loans ($100,000-$1 million).<sup>10</sup>

B. Micro Business Lending by CRA Reporting Banks and BHCs

Large banks and bank holding companies made 5.6 million micro business loans valued at $78 billion in 2003, compared with 5.3 million loans valued at $73 billion in 2002. Total domestic assets for these banks increased from $5.80 trillion for 905 entities in June 2003 to $6.25 trillion for 998 banks and bank holding companies. These banks accounted for 67.1 percent of the dollar amount and 73.6 percent of the number of micro business loans outstanding in June 2004, compared with 69.4 percent of the dollar amount and 73.1 percent of the number in June 2003 (Table E).

<sup>8</sup> A total of 998 banks and BHCs with links to call reports were found to report their small business lending for 2003. However, they accounted for 88 percent of the total domestic assets of all banks in the United States. Information about the total assets of 31 banks and BHCs were not available from the call reports.

<sup>9</sup> It is difficult to compare changes in lending over time using CRA data because of the changes in the bank coverage under CRA reporting. For example, total assets for the CRA reporting banks increased from $5.8 billion in June 2003 to $6.3 billion in June 2004: the increases could have come from 1) increased coverage of the banks filing reports as well as 2) the acquisition of small non-reporting banks by large banks/BHCs. In addition, only those banks whose call reports were identified and linked (to derive asset information) are included in these estimates.

<sup>10</sup> Total domestic assets of BHCs are used here. Details on CRA data consolidation for all members of a BHC were described in the 2000 edition of this report.

** A smaller number of SBL (under $100,000) is partly caused by the exclusion of loans made by Fleet Financial Corporation in 2003 because the bank had ceased to exist by the time of the June 2004 report ( acquired by Bank of America) .

Part Two: Directory of Top-ranking U.S. Small and Micro Business Lenders

Small business lending and borrowing are mostly local in nature: both the borrowers and the lending offices are located in the same community or in communities nearby. In an effort to provide information that will help small businesses shop more efficiently for credit and let banks know about their competitors in small business lending, the Office of Advocacy prepares a directory of small and micro business lenders. The business lending performance of individual banks and bank holding companies is ranked for the national market and in each state. Tables 1A through 2B rank multibillion banks and bank holding companies in the national market, while Table 3A through Table 4B rank them in individual states. Information for all reporting banks (Table 3A) is available at the Advocacy website, www.sba.gov/advo/research/lending.html.

Table 1A. Small Business Lending of Large Banks and BHCs in the U.S. Based on Call Report Data, June 2004

Table 1A ranks the small business lending levels of the 72 banks and bank holding companies with total domestic assets in excess of $10 billion each.<sup>11</sup> Each bank is ranked from 1 to 70, with two banks not ranked, on each of four variables, which then are totaled and re-ranked from 1 to 70.

The top five small business lenders in June 2004, based on call report data, are: American Express Centurion Bank; Regions Financial Corporation (3rd in 2003); BB&T Corporation (2nd in 2003); Synovus Financial Corp (4th in 2003); and First Citizens Bancshares (5th in 2003). The top five banks remain the same from the previous year.

Table 1B. Micro Business Lending of Large Banks and BHCs in the U.S. Using Call Report Data, June 2004

Table 1B ranks the micro business lending of the 72 banks and bank holding companies with total domestic assets in excess of $10 billion each.<sup>12</sup> Each bank is ranked from 1 to 67 on each of four variables, which then are totaled and re-ranked from 1 to 67; five banks and bank holding companies are not ranked because of missing data. The top five lenders as of June 2004 are: American Express Centurion; Citigroup, Inc. (2nd in 2003); BNA Corporation (3rd in 2003); Wells Fargo (4th in 2003); and BB&T Corporation (5th in 2003).<sup>13</sup>

<sup>11</sup> As discussed in the main text, two major credit card banks—American Express Centurion Bank (since March 2004) and Capital One Bank have organized Federal savings bank to conduct their small business credit card operation and, as a result, their submitted Call reports are not included in the call report filing for commercial banks—the focus of this statistical effort. Statistics for Capital One Bank are, therefore, not available in this ranking.

<sup>13</sup> It is important to remind the readers that banks, including BHC subsidiaries, that participate in the U.S. Small Business Administration's (SBA) preferred or certified lenders' programs are active small business lenders. For details, www.sba.gov/financing/sbaloans.

Table 2A. Small Business Lending of Large Banks and BHCs in the U.S. Using CRA Data, 2003

Table 2A ranks large banks and bank holding companies' small business lending using CRA data. Information from call reports was employed in combination with the CRA data to perform the four-variable ranking. As in the previous studies, data covering the members of a BHC were first consolidated to generate estimates for the BHC owning company. Since CRA data provide location-specific information for a bank's small business lending, information on the number of states (and territories) in which the bank or BHC has lending operations is also provided. Because of the importance of small business credit card promotion by large banks and large BHCs, large credit card banks have been included in the ranking since 2002.<sup>14</sup>

The five top small business lenders for 2003, using CRA data, are American Express Centurion Bank; Regions Financial Corporation (2nd in 2002); BB&T (3rd in 2002); Synovus Financial Corporation (4th in 2002); and MBNA Corporation (6th in 2002).

Table 2B. Micro Business Lending of Large Banks and BHCs in the U.S. Using CRA Data, 2003

Table 2B ranks large banks' micro business lending using CRA data. Information from call reports was employed in combination with the CRA data to perform the four-variable ranking. As in the previous studies, data from the members of a BHC were first consolidated to generate estimates for the BHC owning company. CRA location-specific information on banks' small business lending was the source for the data on the number of states in which the bank has substantial lending operations. Because of the importance of small business credit card promotion by large banks and BHCs, large credit card banks such as American Express and MBNA are included in the ranking since 2002.<sup>15</sup>

The five top small business lenders for 2003, using CRA data, are American Express Centurion Bank; MBNA Corporation (3rd in 2002); Citigroup, Inc. (2nd in 2002); Wells Fargo (4th in 2002); and BB&T Corporation (5th in 2002).<sup>16</sup>

Table 3A. Banks' Small Business Lending by State Using Call Report Data, June 2004

Table 3A provides a list of the top banks lending to small businesses in individual states. The list includes the top 10 banks or the top 10 percent, whichever number is smaller. (Ties may increase the number.) The small business lending performance of a bank in a given state is measured on four criteria. The four rankings were summed to create a score for the small business lending activities of individual banks. A bank's total score is the sum of the four individual decile rankings multiplied by 2.5. A complete ranking of all banks in each state is provided on the Advocacy website, www.sba.gov/advo/research/lending.html.

Note again that because the call report data are keyed to the bank headquarters location rather than the location of the lending activity, a significant amount of lending activity by large banks will not appear in the states where the activity occurs.

<sup>14</sup> Beginning in March 2004, American Express began conducting small business lending operation under a separate Savings bank operation—American Express Savings Bank. Also, Capital One Bank has been conducting small business credit card operation under a savings bank charter since 2003.

<sup>15</sup> See also footnote 11 about Capital One, another major small business credit card lender.

<sup>16</sup> See also footnote 11 about the importance of Capital One as a micro business lender.

Table 3B. Banks' Micro Business Lending by State Using Call Report Data, June 2004

Table 3B provides a list of banks making micro business loans (loans under $100,000) in individual states. The list includes the top 10 banks or the top 10 percent, whichever number is smaller. (Ties may increase the number.) The micro business lending performance of a bank in a given state is measured on four criteria. The four rankings were summed to create a score for the micro business lending activities of individual banks. A bank's total score is the sum of the four individual decile rankings multiplied by 2.5.

Table 4A. Top Small Business Lenders by State Using CRA Data, 2003

State lending information for large banks and BHCs is best captured in the CRA database. Table 4A provides a list of top small business lenders in a given state using CRA data. The list includes banks and BHCs with small business lending in a given state in excess of $50 million in 2003. Data for the members of a BHC were consolidated first to generate estimates for the owning BHCs. Consolidated estimates are then derived for each bank/BHC in each state. Rankings are based solely on the dollar amount of small business lending (loans under $1 million) in this table because of the difficulty of generating two ratio variables for these banks and BHCs by state. Clearly, large banks and BHCs have an important role in the small business loan markets in many states.

Table 4B. Top Micro Business Lenders by State Using CRA Data, 2003

Table 4B provides a list of top micro business lenders in a given state using CRA data. The list includes banks and BHCs with micro business lending in a given state in excess of $10 million in 2003. Again, rankings are based solely on the dollar amount of micro business lending (loans under $100,000) in this table for the reasons discussed above.

Appendix: Definitions, Ranking Methodology, and Table Descriptions

Definitions

Call Report Data. Call reports, officially known as Consolidated Reports of Condition and Income, are quarterly reports filed by financial institutions with their appropriate bank regulators. The call reports provide detailed information on the current status of a financial institution—end-of-the-quarter balance sheet items (such as assets, loans, deposits, and net worth) and the income and expenses in the income statement. Section 122 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Improvement Act of 1991 requires financial institutions to report the number and amount of small business loans annually. This information is provided in the quarterly report issued each June. For this reason, call report data is compiled over the year running from July 2003 to June 2004.

The call reports on which Tables 1 and 3 of this study are based provide various bank data, including the number and dollar amount of loans outstanding by loan size for business loans of less than $1 million. Asset size is that of the reporting bank, not the owning BHC.

Community Reinvestment Act Data. The Community Reinvestment Act (CRA), enacted in 1977, is designed to encourage banks to meet the credit needs of the local communities from which they obtain deposited funds. In 1994 the federal banking supervisory agencies revised the regulations implementing the CRA. The revisions included a requirement that banks report data on small business lending by census tract. CRA data for small business loans became available for public use in 1997.

To minimize the paperwork burden on small banks, only those above a certain threshold are required to provide this data. Hence, only banks with assets over $250 million or any member banks of a bank holding company (BHC) with assets over $1 billion provide this information. In effect, less than 20 percent of banks are required to file CRA reports, but these banks make some two-thirds of the loans to small businesses.

The CRA data in this report contain information on lending to small businesses for the calendar year 2003. The lending information is classified by the borrower's location, rather than the location of the bank headquarters, as is the case in the call reports. In addition, whereas call reports provide data on the number of loans outstanding as of June 30 or the stock of loans, CRA data show all the loans made in the calendar year, or the flow of loans. And whereas call reports provide information on all commercial banks, CRA data cover only the larger banks.

For bank holding companies, only consolidated CRA information is reported. Total small business lending in the state by the BHC is then derived for the state lending statistics and listed under the name of the ultimate lending bank or BHC.

To reiterate, the CRA data show:

- Loans made in a calendar year, not the outstanding loans as of June of the year as shown in the call reports.
- Data only for banks with more than $250 million in assets and all member banks of holding companies with more than $1 billion in assets (whereas the call reports cover all commercial banks).

Call report and CRA data tell only a part of the story about lending to small business, namely the commercial banking part. Small businesses certainly have access to other sources of credit, such as their suppliers, finance companies, family and friends. Additionally, some lending information may not be reported in call reports or CRA data, or may not be discernible as small business financing. For example:

- Banks may provide lines of credit to small firms. If the line of credit is not used, it will not be reported as a loan.
- Banks may issue consumer credit cards or other forms of consumer credit to small businesses for working capital (e.g., to buy office equipment). Banks may report these as either small business or consumer loans.
- Loans to small businesses are often made in the form of a second mortgage on the business owner's home and/or personal lines of credit.
- Small business owners may use their personal credit cards to finance their businesses.

Ranking Methodology

When possible, four variables were used to create a total score for the small business lending activities of individual banks: (1) the ratio of small business loans to total assets, (2) the ratio of small business loans to total business loans, (3) the dollar value of small business loans, and (4) the number of small business loans. The total ranking summarizes the four individual scores. Small banks tend to score higher in some categories than larger banks, and vice versa. For example, smaller banks have a higher percentage of total assets in small business loans, but larger banks lead in the sheer number and value of small loans. Using two ratio variables and two value variables allows a more balanced measure of lending performance by banks of different sizes.<sup>17</sup>

For large banks and BHCs in the call reports (Tables 1A and 1B), simple rankings from 1 and up were performed for each of the four variables first, with “1” for the top ranking. The four individual rankings were summed and re-ranked from 1 and up again for the total rank. For banks using CRA data (Tables 2A and 2B), ratio information was retrieved from call report data and used in combination with information from the CRA to perform Advocacy’s four-variable scheme for ranking. Again, simple rankings were performed and summed to obtain total rankings.

To rank lending by all banks in a state based on call report data (Tables 3A and 3B), a decile ranking is used instead of a simple ranking. This is justified because of a much larger number of banks in a given state. The decile ranking is a measure of where the individual bank falls in the distribution of all banks within a state for any given variable. Decile rankings range from 1 to 10. Banks in the top 10 percent of all banks in the state receive the maximum score of 10; banks in the lowest 10 percent receive a score of 1. Banks that do not lend to small businesses (loans under $1 million) receive a 0. Four top scores will sum to 40. To make the top score total 100 rather than 40, each score is multiplied by 2.5.

For state lending using the CRA data (Tables 4A and 4B), banks were listed in order of the dollar amount of small business loans made in each state in the year. Large institutions therefore appear at the top.

<sup>17</sup> With the exception of those financial holding companies that organize special credit lending institutions such as a federal savings bank or commercial bank to conduct business lending. For example, by organizing a special business lending savings bank, American Express Savings Bank will have even higher values for the two ratio criterion used in the ranking process.

Table Descriptions

Table 1A. Small Business Lending of Large Banks and BHCs in the U.S. Using Call Report Data, June 2004

This table uses call report data to rank the small business lending of the large BHCs on the basis of four criteria that measure the small business lending emphasis in a bank's loan portfolio. Small business loans (SBLs) are defined as loans under $1 million.

- 1. Overall Ranking (Total Rank). Summary small business lending rankings of BHCs with respect to loans under $1 million. A simple ranking of 1 and up is made for each criterion and the total rank derived from the sum of the four rankings from data found in columns 2-5.
- 2. Ratio of Small Business Loans to Total Assets (LSBL/TA). The ratio of the dollar value of small business loans under $1 million to total bank assets for each bank holding company. For the 72 large bank/BHCs, the ratios of small business loans to total assets ranged from near 0 percent to a high of 0.427 (for American Express Centurion).
- 3. Ratio of Small Business Loans to Total Business Loans (LSBL/TBL). For the 72 large banks and BHCs, the ratios of the value of small business lending to total business lending ranged from near 0 percent to 1.00 percent (for American Express Centurion).
- 4. Total Dollar Amount of Small Business Lending by the BHC (LSBL$). The total dollar amount (in thousands) of small business loans of less than $1 million.
- 5. Total Number of Small Business Loans (LSBL#). The number of small business loans of less than $1 million.
- 6. Bank/BHC Asset Size Class (Bnk. Size). Asset size class of the bank/BHC:
  - $10 billion to under $50 billion ($10B-$50B)
  - $50 billion and over (>$50B)
- 7. Total Dollar Amount of Micro Business Loans (SSBL$). Similar to column 4, but for loans of less than $100,000, in thousands of dollars.
- 8. Total Number of Micro Business Loans (SSBL#). Similar to column 5, but for loans of less than $100,000.
- 9. Total Dollar Amount of Large-Size Small Business Loans (LSBL(2)$ ). Similar to column 4, but for loans between $100,000 and $ 1million, in thousands of dollars.
- 10. Total Number of Large-Size Small Business Loans (LSBL(2)# ). Similar to column 5, but for loans between $100,000 and $1 million.
- 11. Credit Card Loans to Total Assets (CRD/TA). The ratio of the dollar value of credit card loans to total assets.

Table 1B: Micro Business Lending of Large Banks and BHCs in the U.S. Using Call Report Data, June 2004

This table uses call report data to rank the micro business lending of the large BHCs on the basis of four criteria that measure the micro business lending emphasis in a bank's loan portfolio. Micro business loans (SSBLs) are defined as loans under $100,000.

- 1. Overall Ranking (Total Rank). Summary micro business lending rankings of banks and BHCs with respect to loans under $100,000. A simple ranking of 1 and up is made first and the total rank is derived from the sum of four rankings from data found in columns 2 through 5.
- 2. Ratio of Micro Business Loans to Total Assets (SSBL/TA). The ratio of the dollar value of micro business loans under $100,000 to total bank assets for each bank holding company. For the 72 large BHCs, the ratios of micro business loans to total assets ranged from near 0 percent to 0.427 (for American Express Centurion).
- 3. Ratio of Micro Business Loans to Total Business Loans (SSBL/TBL). For the 72 large BHCs, the ratios of the value of micro business lending to total business lending ranged from near 0 percent to 1.000 percent (for American Express Centurion because of the dominance of business credit cards and small credit lines in the bank's business loans).
- 4. Total Dollar Amount of Micro Business Lending by the Bank/BHC (SSBL$). The total dollar amount (in thousands) of micro business loans of less than $100,000.
- 5. Total Number of Micro Business Loans (SSBL#). The number of micro business loans of less than $100,000.
- 6. Bank/BHC Asset Size Class (Bk. Size). Asset size class of the bank/BHC:

Table 2A: Small Business Lending of Large Banks and BHCs Using CRA Data, 2003

Table 2A uses both CRA and call report data to rank-order the 63 largest banks and BHCs on the basis of four criteria that measure the small business lending performance for a bank. Two ratio variables were derived from the call reports while the two value variables are from the CRA data.

- 1. Total Rank. Summary “small business performance” rankings of BHCs with respect to loans under $1 million. A simple ranking of 1 through 63 for each of the four variables is performed first and the sum of the four scores is used to derive the total rank. The four criteria used are described in this table in columns 2 through 5.
- 2. The Ratio of Small Business Loans to Total Assets (LSBL/TA). This column shows the ratio of small business loans (<$1 million) to total assets for each bank. A high ratio indicates a bank's willingness to place a large portion of its assets in small business lending.

- 3. The Ratio of the Dollar Amount of Small Business Loans to Total Business Loans (LSBL/TBL). The ratio of small business loans (<$1 million) to total business loans for each bank. Banks that make business loans predominantly to small firms will rank high in this category
- 4. Total Dollar Amount of Small Business Lending by the Bank (LSBL$). The total dollar amount (in thousands) of small business loans of less than $1 million.
- 5. Total Number of Small Business Loans (LSBL#). The number of small business loans of less than $1 million.
- 6. No. of States w/ Loans. The number of states (and territories) where the bank extended small business loans.
- 7. Bank/BHC Asset Size Class (Bk. Size). Asset size class of the bank/BHC:

- 9. Total Number of Micro Business Loans under $100,000 by the BHC (SSBL#). Similar to column 5, but for loans of less than $100,000.

Table 2B: Micro Business Lending of Large Banks and BHCs in the U.S. Using CRA Data, 2003

Table 2B uses both CRA and call report data to rank order 63 large BHCs on the basis of four criteria that measure the micro business lending performance for a BHC. Two ratio variables were derived from the call reports.

- 1. Total Rank. Summary “micro business performance” rankings of BHCs with respect to loans under $1 million. A simple ranking of 1 through 63 for each of the four variables is performed first and the sum of the four scores is used to derive the total rank. The four criteria used are described in this table as items 2 through 5.
- 2. The Ratio of Micro Business Loans to Total Assets (SSBL/TA). This column shows the ratio of micro business loans (<$100,000) to total assets for each bank. A high ratio indicates a bank’s willingness to place a large portion of its assets in small business lending.
- 3. The Ratio of the Dollar Amount of Micro Business Loans to Total Business Loans (SSBL/TBL). The ratio of micro business loans (<$100,000) to total business loans for each bank. Banks that make business loans predominantly to small firms will rank high in this category.

- 7. Bank/BHC Asset Size Class (Bk. Size). Asset size class of the bank/BHC:
  - $10 billion to under $50 billion ($10B–$50B)
  - $50 billion and over (>$50B)
- 8. Total Dollar Amount of Small Business Loans by the Bank (LSBL$). Similar to column 4, but for loans of less than $1 million, in thousands of dollars.
- 9. Total Number of Small Business Loans by the Bank (LSBL#). Similar to column 5, but for loans of less than $1 million.

Table 3A. Banks' Small Business Lending by State Using Call Report Data, June 2004

- 1. Total Score (Total Rank). The total rank found in the first column is the score of the commercial bank in the state in which it is listed. The number is the aggregate measure of small business lending activity based on the sum of the four individual decile scores provided in the expanded version of Table 3A found on Advocacy's webpage, www.sba.gov/advo/research/lending.html.
- 2. The Ratio of Small Business Loans to Total Assets (LSBL/TA). This column shows the ratio of small business loans (<$1 million) to total assets for each bank. A high ratio indicates a bank's willingness to place a large portion of its assets in small business lending.
- 3. The Ratio of the Dollar Amount of Small Business Loans to Total Business Loans (LSBL/TBL). The ratio of small business loans (<$1 million) to total business loans for each bank. Banks that make business loans predominantly to small firms will rank high in this category.
- 4. Total Dollar Amount of Small Business Loans (LSBL$). The dollar value (in thousands) of small business loans (<$1 million) outstanding as of June 30, 2004 from the bank. Larger banks will score well in this column and in column 5 because their size allows them to make more small loans than smaller banks, even if their demonstrated commitment to small business lending, as shown by the ratios in columns 2 and 3, is low.
- 5. Total Number of Small Business Loans (LSBL#). The total number of small business loans (<$1 million) outstanding for each bank.
- 6. Bank Asset Size (Bnk. Sz.). The asset size class of the reporting bank:
  - Under $100 million (<$100M)
  - $100 million to under $500 million ($100M–$500M)
  - $500 million to under $1 billion ($500M–$1B)
  - $1 billion to under $10 billion ($1B–$10B)
  - $10 billion and over (>$10B)
- 7. Total Score of Micro Business Loans (Total Rank). The total score of the banks based on their micro business lending. The total score is the sum of the four scores with respect to micro business loans of less than $100,000. A firm looking for a loan of less than $100,000 might want to seek out a bank that ranks high in this column (and/or from table 3B).

8. Dollar Amount of Small Business Loans (SSBL$). The dollar value (in thousands) of micro business loans of less than $100,000.
9. Number of Small Business Loans (SSBL#). The number of small business loans of less than $100,000 made by the bank.

2. The Ratio of Micro Business Loans to Total Assets (SSBL/TA). This column shows the ratio of micro business loans (<$100,000) to total assets for each bank. A high ratio indicates a bank's willingness to place a large portion of its assets in small business lending.
3. The Ratio of the Dollar Amount of Micro Business Loans to Total Business Loans (SSBL/TBL). The ratio of micro business loans (<$100,000) to total business loans for each bank. Banks that make business loans predominantly to small firms will rank high in this category.
4. Total Dollar Amount of Micro Business Loans (SSBL$). The dollar value (in thousands) of micro business loans (<$100,000) outstanding from the bank. Larger banks will score well in this column and in column 5 because their size allows them to make many small loans, even if their commitment to micro business lending, as shown by the ratios in columns 2 and 3, is low.
5. Total Number of Micro Business Loans (SSBL#). The total number of micro business loans (<$100,000) outstanding for each bank.
6. Bank Asset Size (Bnk. Asset Sz.). The asset size class of the reporting bank:
  - Under $100 million (<$100M)

- 10. Credit Card Loans to Total Assets (CRD/TA). The ratio of the dollar value of credit card loans to total assets.

Table 4A is formatted differently from Table 3A because only CRA data are used. The table lists the bank name—the name of the owning bank or bank holding company—as well as the home state of the bank. Banks/BHCs are ranked on the basis of the dollar amount of small business loans (under $1 million) made in 2003. The table also provides the dollar amount and number of small business loans for micro loans under $100,000 and for large-sized loans between $100,000 and $1 million. Only banks with small business loan totals in excess of $50 million in a given state in 2003 are listed.

The table provides the dollar amount and number of micro business loans under $100,000, supplemented by larger loans between $100,000 and $1 million, and small business loans under $1 million. Only banks with micro business loan totals in excess of $10 million in a given state in 2003 are listed.
