I know of nothing which satisfies my own mind that I would care to take before the Royal Society, but the fault may not be so much in the nature of the proof as in the nature of our present methods of testing evidence. The laborious documents of the Psychical Research Society are there for all the world to see, and while we have exposed much fraud and discredited much spiritualism, we have collected evidence of the possibility of communication between this and other world which deserves consideration. ### OVER A MILE A MINUTE.

Some comparisons have been made between the run of the Royal Special train n the Great Western Railway of England and that of the Twentieth Century Limited on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern on May 25. A British correspondent has taken some pains to get the exact figure for the English train official sources.

The train was a royal special taking the Prince and Princess of Wales from London to Plymouth. The run of 246 miles was made with no stops except in passing Bath, Bristol and Exeter. There were serious upgrades between Taunton and Tiverton, between Totnes and Wranghton for 10 miles on end, between Newton, Abbott and Totnes, be sides other less grades. The Ime beyond Exeter is a hard series of grade work. The train weighed 120 tons back of the tender, or 219 tons with locomotive. The passing times were as follows:

WHY PEOPLE STAMMER.

Stammering depends on a want of harmony between the action of the muscles (chiefly abdominal) which expel air through the larynx and that of the muscles which guard the orifice by of speech. Over either of the groups of muscles by itself a stammerer may have as much power as other people, but he cannot harmoniously arrange frequent cause of stammering. It is possible that the defect in some instances may result from malformation of the parts about the back of the mouth. The fact that stammering people are able to sing their words better than to speak them has been usually explained on the supposition that in singing the glottis is kept open so that there is less liability to spasmodic action.—Boston Transcript.

NEW YORK, April 27 .- For a week past Bob Johnston, a colored cook who runs a "boarding house kitchen" for stock of the Washington Loan and Trust at the Jamaica track, has been a man of mystery. Southampton opened at 60 to 1. In a jiffy a battalion of colored men swarmed through the big betting ring, betting $1, $2, $5, and $10 on the colt, while many white men spread larger wagers across the board. The layers had been handling a world of wise money which served to back Billy Roche down from 6 to 1 to a 5 to 2 favorite, while Orgontz caught more at 7 to 2. But suddenly they became aware of the fact that a killing with Southampton was on the cards, and they began rubbing the odds un'il 12 to 1 was the best price on offer.

Surprise Was Terrible

The directors of the Baltimore Trust and Guarantee Company have recommended a reduction of the capital from $1,000,000 to $800,000, and a meeting of the stockholders has been called for May 6, to act upon the proposition. There will, it is said, be considerable apposition to the proposition, as several of the directors are against it.

Surprise Was Terrible.

Patry McCue had the mount, and when he went trailing up the backstretch far back in the ruck the colored betters scowled and looked around for Bob. But their suspense was shortlived, for rounding the turn Southampton mowed his field down like chaff before

The rise of "Eddie" Hanlon, the California boy who will meet "Kid" Sullireka Athletic and Social Club, of Baltimore, has been a meteoric one. Many think that Hanlon is practically the est 130-pound boxer in the country.

The little Frisco boy has only been before the public as a pugilist for three years, and success has crowned his ef-orts continually. When Hanlon had his first amateur engagement, with "Abe" Attell, then the best boy in his class, be barely weighed 100 pounds, but he gave his opponent one of the hardest fights. His next encounter of any, note was Christmas Day, 1900, when he met was Christmas Day, 1906, when he met Frankie Neil, now the recognized bantamweight champion of the country. Hanlon was awarded the decision at the end of five rounds.

His first big fight as a "pro" was with "Kid" McFadden. It was a cinch for the Frisco youngster. Morris Rausch and Maxey Hugh came next and Abe Attell followed. Frankie Neil and a few others were next disposed of.

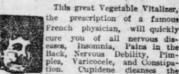

The next and most important fight of his career was with "Young Corbett" for the featherweight championship. The bout went the twenty-round limit and was decided a draw. "Benny" Yanger was next, and in his fight with Hanlon, Yanger had the first defeat of his career. A return match with Yanger was next, and after this followed the memorable battle with "Young Corbett," in which contest Hanlon went down to defeat for the first time.
