A TECHNOLOGY ASSESSMENT AND FORECAST REPORT

The attached table lists the first utility, design, reissue, and plant patents, defensive publications, and statutory invention registrations issued in each year since 1837. For those documents issued since 1963, information regarding the day of issue is also provided. A brief description of these patent documents is provided on the following page.

The patent documents listed in this report are as follows:

- 1) 1836-Series Patents (Utility Patents)- Mechanical, electrical, and chemical patents issued since July 13, 1836, which are frequently designated as "utility" patents, are included in this document set. This document set is entirely numeric, beginning with number "1", issued on July 13, 1836.
- 2) Design Patents- Patents for designs are issued under a separate series of numbers which begin with a "D" (e.g., "D346445").
- 3) Plant Patents- Patents offer protection for certain types of plants. Plant patents are issued under a separate series of numbers which begin with the characters "PP" (e.g., "PP03037").
- 4) Reissue Patents- Reissue patents are issued to correct a previously issued patent. Reissue patents are issued under a separate series of numbers which begin with the characters "RE". Note that reissue Design patents are issued under the same series of numbers but begin with the characters "RD". Reissue patents were not separately numbered until 1838.
- 5) Defensive Publication Series (DEF)- Defensive publication documents are issued under a separate series of numbers which begin with the character "T" (e.g., "T947001"). Prior to December 1969, Defensive Publication documents were assigned according to a numbering system which was based on the application number assigned at the time of receipt at the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO). Subsequent to December 1969, a new numbering system was adopted which was based on the volume number of the "Official Gazette" publication in which the Defensive Publication was first printed. A conversion table for translating Defensive Publications issuing prior to December 16, 1969, to the new numbering system appears in the Official Gazette of December 16, 1969, vol.869, pages 687 and 688. In this report, all Defensive Publications are identified by numbers assigned according to the new numbering system.
- 6) Statutory Invention Registration Series (SIR)- These documents are issued under a separate series of numbers which begin with the character "H" (e.g., "H000312").

Selected patent documents are not listed in the attached table. They are as follows:

- 1) X-Series Documents- These are the 9,957 patents which issued between 1790 and July 4, 1836. They were not originally numbered, but have been arbitrarily assigned numbers in the sequence in which they issued. The assigned numbers begin with an "X" (e.g., "X11280").
- 2) AI-Series Documents- From 1838 to 1861, patents covering an inventor's improvement on their own patented device were given a separate series of numbers which begin with the letters, "AI" (e.g., "AI00318").

Document numbers for the time period 1836 to 1962 have been obtained from the table titled, "Summary of the Number of Patents and Defensive Publications Issued Annually, 1836-1984", contained in the publication, "Index of Patents, Part II, Index to Subject of Inventions Issued From the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, 1984", published by the Government Printing Office. Document numbers since January, 1963, have been obtained from several sources including the Official Gazette and the Search and Information Resources Administration of the Patent and Trademark Office. These more recent document numbers were cross-checked in the Official Gazette, the online APS-Text Search System, the APS-Image Search System, and other sources. The user should note, however, that the table data may not be completely devoid of errors.

Numbers, as displayed in the table, are 7 characters with the numeric portion padded with leading zeroes where necessary.

Note that some numbers within a series may be unused. Therefore, the number of patents granted during a year cannot be determined by simply subtracting the number of the first patent issued in one year from the number of the first patent issued in the next year.

Types of Patents

The PTO issues several different types of patent documents offering different kinds of protection and covering different types of subject matter.

A recently issued PTO patent document is one of six types, generally described below. See U.S. Code Title 35 - Patents, for a full description of patents and patent laws.

- * Utility Patent- Issued for the invention of a new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or a new and useful improvement thereof, it generally permits its owner to exclude others from making, using, or selling the invention for a period of up to twenty years from the date of patent application filing ++, subject to the payment of maintenance fees. Approximately 90% of the patent documents issued by the PTO in recent years have been utility patents, also referred to as "patents for invention."
- * Design Patent- Issued for a new, original, and ornamental design for an article of manufacture, it permits its owner to exclude others from making, using, or selling the design for a period of fourteen years from the date of patent grant. Design patents are not subject to the payment of maintenance fees.
- * Plant Patent- Issued for a new and distinct, invented or discovered asexually reproduced plant including cultivated sports, mutants, hybrids, and newly found seedlings, other than a tuber propagated plant or a plant found in an uncultivated state, it permits its owner to exclude others from making, using, or selling the plant for a period of up to twenty years from the date of patent application filing ++. Plant patents are not subject to the payment of maintenance fees.
- * Reissue Patent- Issued to correct an error in an already issued utility, design, or plant patent, it does not affect the period of protection offered by the original patent.
- * Defensive Publication (DEF)- Issued instead of a regular utility, design, or plant patent, it offers limited protection, defensive in nature, to prevent others from patenting an invention, design, or plant. The Defensive Publication was replaced by the Statutory Invention Registration in 1985-86.
- * Statutory Invention Registration (SIR)- This document replaced the Defensive Publication in 1985-86 and offers similar protection.

++ Although, the length of utility and plant patent protection (patent term) was previously seventeen years from the date of patent grant, utility and plant patents filed after June 8, 1995 now have a patent term of up to twenty years from the date of filing of the earliest related patent application. Utility and plant patents which were applied for prior to June 8, 1995, and which were or will be in force after June 8, 1995, now have a patent term of seventeen years from the date of patent grant or twenty years from the date of filing of the earliest related patent application, whichever is longer. Utility patents are subject to the payment of periodic maintenance fees to keep the patent in force. Patent terms can be extended under some specific circumstances. See the U.S. Code Title 35 - Patents for a full description of patent laws.

(*) The current patent numbering system began with a patent issued on July 13, 1836. Prior to that date, 9,957 patents had been issued. The user should note that the data in this table have been checked but that it may still not be completely devoid of errors.

Numbers, as displayed in the table, are 7 characters with the numeric portion padded with leading zeroes where necessary.

Note that some numbers within a series may be unused. Therefore, the number of patents granted during a year cannot be determined by simply subtracting the number of the first patent issued in one year from the number of the first patent issued in the next year.

(**) Reissue patents were not separately numbered until 1838

(***) See the explanation page regarding the numbering systems used for Defensive Publications

(*) The current patent numbering system began with a patent issued on July 13, 1836. Prior to that date, 9,957 patents had been issued. The user should note that the data in this table have been checked but that it may still not be completely devoid of errors.

Numbers, as displayed in the table, are 7 characters with the numeric portion padded with leading zeroes where necessary.

Note that some numbers within a series may be unused. Therefore, the number of patents granted during a year cannot be determined by simply subtracting the number of the first patent issued in one year from the number of the first patent issued in the next year.

(**) Reissue patents were not separately numbered until 1838

(***) See the explanation page regarding the numbering systems used for Defensive Publications

(*) The current patent numbering system began with a patent issued on July 13, 1836. Prior to that date, 9,957 patents had been issued. The user should note that the data in this table has been checked but that it may still not be completely devoid of errors.

Numbers, as displayed in the table, are 7 characters with the numeric portion padded with leading zeroes where necessary.

Note that some numbers within a series may be unused. Therefore, the number of patents granted during a year cannot be determined by simply subtracting the number of the first patent issued in one year from the number of the first patent issued in the next year.

(**) Reissue patents were not separately numbered until 1838

(***) See the explanation page regarding the numbering systems used for Defensive Publications
