

monster
Seminar
JAM
autumn2008

Weekly Seminar Series

at the Northwest Fisheries Science Center Auditorium
Thursdays at 11 AM

- OCT 02 Ecosystem Based Management - It's Now Up To Us
WILLIAM RUCKELSHAUS
Puget Sound Partnership
- OCT 09 Regional Climate Modeling and Impacts Assessment in the US Pacific Northwest
ERIC SALATHÉ
Climate Impacts Group
University of Washington
- OCT 16 Managing Puget Sound's Groundfish Resources from the Bottom Up
WAYNE PALSSON
Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife
- OCT 23 If Ecosystem Services Are So Valuable, Why Can't I Buy More of Them in the Grocery Store?
MARK PLUMMER
Conservation Biology Division
Northwest Fisheries Science Center
- OCT 30 Complexity, Resilience, and Uncertainty in Coupled Human-Natural Systems: Linking Observations, Models, and Scenarios
MARINA ALBERTI
Department of Urban Design and Planning
University of Washington
- NOV 06 Toxics in the Puget Sound Food Web: Understanding the Problem in Order to Move Towards Improvement
SANDIE O'NEILL
Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife
- NOV 13 Seabirds and Citizens: Can Moms Model Top Predators?
JULIA PARRISH
School of Aquatic and Fishery Sciences
University of Washington
- NOV 20 Internal Grants Follies
NORTHWEST FISHERIES SCIENCE CENTER
- NOV 27 THANKSGIVING
- DEC 04 A Comprehensive View of Nearshore Ecosystem Change in Puget Sound
CHARLES "SI" SIMENSTAD
School of Aquatic and Fishery Sciences
University of Washington
- DEC 11 Dissolved Oxygen in Hood Canal: Understanding Variation and Drivers of Change
JAN NEWTON
Department of Environmental and Information Systems
University of Washington
- DEC 18 Learning from Ecosystem-Based Management
KAI LEE
David and Lucile Packard Foundation