Hiking

A network of over 30 miles of signed and maintained trails branch out across Lakes Basin Recreation

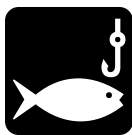

Area from several trailheads. The trails offer a variety of difficulty levels from the leisurely stroll to an adventurous challenge. The trail network encompasses many of the serene lakes, as well as storm-battered tree stands and wildflower meadows. A stretch of the Pacific Crest trail can be easily reached from our trail system. Equestrians and mountain bikers may enjoy miles of riding on many of the trails.

Camping

Lakes Basin Camp has 23 sites, 1 group site and is operated by a concessionaire. Reservations can

Mills Peak Fire Lookout

A three mile drive northeast of Gold Lake, the Mills Peak Fire Lookout presents a panoramic view of Mohawk Valley. At an elevation of 7,342, the lookout was built in 1932. It was designed with sides facing directly north, south, east and west to make it easier for lookouts to pinpoint fires on maps.

Petroglyphs

Located between Lakes Basin Campground and Elwell Lodge, interpretive signs explain art carved into nearby rocks by prehistoric Native Americans.

Red Fir Nature Trail

Along the road to Mills Peak, one mile south of the Fire Lookout, visitors can stop and take a short walk. Interpretive signs lead visitors through the life cycle of the beautiful and stately red fir forest.

Frazier Falls

The parking and picnic area is located two miles northeast of Gold Lake on the Frazier Falls Road. The paved trail goes 1/2 mile from the parking area to the Frazier Falls Overlook. From this site, visitors can enjoy the majestic 176 foot vertical drop of the falls. The best viewing is in spring or early summer.
