

Gemmill Thin Cumulative Effects Boundary Map Wildlife

Geographic bounding for wildlife cumulative effects tied to spotted owl base analysis areas.

The many red and gray outlined polygons are various types of spotted owl habitat. These include nesting, roosting, foraging, connectivity, capable and not capable habitat types.

Legend

-  Project Area Boundary
-  Gemmill Veg-Silvicultural Units

Owl Base Analysis

Action Area

-  No Cumulative Effect from proposed action
-  Yes, there will be a Cumulative Effect from proposed action

Wildwood

Knob

M. Arnold
3/10/08

File path: f:\files\office\sfmu\uphfk\010 Gemmill GIS Files\Bounding
Maps_MArnold

0 0.35 0.7 1.4 2.1 2.8 Miles