Comments: I write on behalf of my animal friends. And, I simply ask that you accept internationally validated non-animal methods, including non-animal test methods for skin and eye irritation, phototoxicity, and pyrogenicity (fever induction), and to follow the additional December 2006 recommendations of the animal protection community.

The horrifying acts that occur during animal testing are 10-fold of my worst nightmares. Can you imagine being in their place? When we have so much to lose, why not support our defenseless friends?

We have two major problems at hand. First, animals are being killed needlessly, when non-animal tests could be adopted instead. Second, public health is jeopardized, as non-animal test methods have been demonstrated to be more accurate, more sensitive, and more protective of public health.

I beg you to consider a change. Thank you for your time.
