

508 Training Icebreaker Quiz

1. Every deaf person can read lips.
 - a. True
 - b. False
2. Products and architectural design for people with disabilities can benefit the general market as well.
 - a. True
 - b. False
3. When referring to someone with a visual impairment, you should say, “The Blind” person.
 - a. True
 - b. False
4. If you notice that a visually impaired person has put their cane in a place that blocks part of the aisle, you should move it out of the way.
 - a. True
 - b. False
5. When introduced to a person with a disability:
 - a. Offer to shake hands, even if the person has limited hand use
 - b. Don’t pat the person on the head
 - c. Identify yourself and others who may be with you if the person has a severe loss of vision.
 - d. All of the above
6. When communicating with a person who has a speech or language impairment, you should be patient, never speaking for the person.
 - a. True
 - b. False
7. When should you pet a guide or service dog:
 - a. Always
 - b. Never
 - c. Only with permission of the animal’s owner
8. You are unable to make yourself understood trying to converse with a deaf coworker. Should you:
 - a. Roll your eyes and say, “Never mind!”
 - b. Try to sign with the person, using gestures
 - c. Write your message on a notepad or computer
 - d. Raise your voice and drop the pitch several octaves
9. A mobility challenged coworker in a wheelchair approaches you at an office meeting with several questions. Should you “squat down” or use a chair in order to place yourself at eye level with the coworker in order to facilitate conversation?
 - a. True
 - b. False