

ATTN: Dr. William Stokes, Director

Dear Dr. Stokes,

In light of America's postal service concerns and the time element involved in this matter, I opted to send my comments via e-mail. Please excuse the informality of communicating this way, as the LD50 Test is a topic that I do take very seriously.

Though I understand that funding is a main reason why company's are not able to eradicate the use of the LD50 Test, it is irresponsible of such company's not to seek alternative testing methods aggressively. It is my hope that efforts to replace lethal dose testing entirely with non-animal/in vitro testing will be successful. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Carol A. L. Stanko
