

Report of the International
Workshop on In Vitro Methods for Assessing Acute Systemic Toxicity.

To whom this may concern:

The cruel testing of toxic chemicals on helpless animals needs to be stopped! These tests have been going ~~on~~ on for 20 years and involve the suffering and eventually death of the animals. NIEHS should find a new, non-animal test method. All government agencies need to immediately in the vitro cell culture method to reduce the number of animals killed

Sincerely,
Susan
