Dear Vice Admiral Conrad Lautenbacher,

I think that it is our duty to protect our oceans as a food supply, as a source of potential medicines, develop wave generated electricity, and keep it as the oxygen maker of our planet.

We look on the oceans as an endless storehouse but it too can become too polluted to revive.

It should be the government's duty to protect our resources for the majority of our citizens & not let this resource be destroyed so a few companies can make mega profits.

Thank you.
