

I have found that far too many "noise" complaints are created by sight. The complainer has been sensitized to noise by local controversy and publicity and he "hears" noise every time he sees an aircraft.