

Weekly Monster Seminar JAM

LIVE, at the Northwest Fisheries Science Center Auditorium

Winter 2006

Thursday, January 26th - 11:00 A.M.

Population Structure and Dispersal of Deep-sea Vent and Seep Organisms: Weedy Species in Ephemeral Environments

Dr. Robert C. Vrijenhoek
Monterey Bay Aquarium Research Institute

Win 2006 Monster JAM Seminar Schedule

Jan 05	Mother Nature's Dangerous Dams	John Clague
Jan 12	When the Arctic Becomes Subarctic: Northern Alaska Seabirds Respond to Climate-Driven Changes in Ichthyofauna	George Divoky
Jan 19	Conservation Reliant Species: Exceptions or the Rule?	Dale Goble J. Michael Scott
Jan 26	Population Structure and Dispersal of Deep-sea Vent and Seep Organisms: Weedy Species in Ephemeral Environments	Robert Vrijenhoek
Feb 02	In the Company of Crows and Ravens: Coevolution of Animal and Human Culture	John Marzluff
Feb 09	Genetic Issues in Listing Species Under the U.S. Endangered Species Act	Susan Haig
Feb 16	A Regional West Coast Observing System for Toxigenic Pseudo-nitzschia	Vera Trainer
Feb 23	Acoustic Smog: Undersea Noise Effects on Whales and Other Marine Life	Lindy Weilgart
Mar 02	TBA	K. David Hyrenbach
Mar 09	Degradation and Destabilization of Freshwater Ecosystems by Diffuse and Urban Nitrogen Sources	Peter Leavitt
Mar 16	Seabirds as Ecosystem Indicators in the North Pacific: Application to Management and Conservation	William Sydeman