SRS TO SHARE SAFETY INFORMATION AT JUNE 12 OPEN HOUSE

AIKEN, SC (June 6, 2007) – The Savannah River Site will share its safety attitude with the community at its 12th annual safety open house on June 12. Admission for the open house is free, and is scheduled for 6-8 p.m., at the University of South Carolina–Aiken. Exhibits will be located in the Business and Education Building (Conference Center) gymnasium. The exhibits are open to SRS employees and the general public. Many of the exhibits will include interactive features designed to interest children.

Since 1996, SRS has invited the public to learn more about the safety culture on site and browse exhibits featuring some of the latest technology used in the world of safety. This community event is held in conjunction with the SRS annual Safety Conference for site employees, a two-day event designed to reinforce good safety habits on and off the job.

The open house will feature over 40 informational and interactive exhibits presented by SRS, area hospitals, businesses and organizations. The theme of this year's conference is "Safety is Classic," and the conference will focus on all aspects of the site's safety program, both on and off the job.
