Annotator's Note

This annotation focuses on Glenn Brown's original text for volumes I and II and does not include Charles Moore's introduction. The data in the tables in both volumes stands as Brown published it. It has not been annotated or corrected because of the voluminous and numerous footnotes that would have made the tables confusing to read. Brown derived the data in the tables from a variety of official and popular publications and records, and it is not always possible to determine the source of his information. The printed sources used by Brown are cited in the bibliography in this annotated edition. This updated bibliography and the reference files in the Architect of the Capitol Curator's Office and the Senate Curator's Office should be consulted to verify the information in Brown's tables. Glenn Brown's captions are shown in capital letters as in the original volumes. Annotations providing current information appear below the original captions in mixed-case type.
