Instructions for Recipient

Original issue discount (OID) means the difference between the stated redemption price at maturity and the issue price of a bond, debenture, note, or other evidence of indebtedness, or the acquisition price of a stripped bond or coupon. This also applies to certificates of deposit, time deposits, bonus savings plans, and other deposit arrangements having a term of more than 1 year provided the payment of interest is deferred until maturity.

OID is taxable over the life of the obligation. If you are the holder of one of these obligations, you must include a part of the OID in your gross income each year you hold the obligation.

If, as the record holder, you receive Form 1099-OID showing amounts belonging to another person, you are considered a nominee recipient. You must file Form 1099-OID for each of the other owners showing the amounts allocable to each Furnish a Form 1099-OID to each owner. File Form(s) 1099-OID with Form 1096, Annual Summary and Transmittal of U. S. Information Returns, with the Internal Revenue Service Center for your area. On each Form 1099-OID, list yourself as the "payer" and the other owner as the "recipient." On Form 1096, list yourself as the "filer." A husband or wife is not required to file a nominee return to show amounts owned by the other. If you bought or sold an obligation during the year and you are not a nominee, you are not required to issue or file Form 1099-OID showing the OID or stated interest allocable to the seller/buyer of the obligation.

Box 1.—Shows either the total OID on the obligation for the calendar year or the OID on the obligation for the part of the year you owned it. If you bought the obligation at original issuance and you held the obligation for the entire year or for the part of the year it was outstanding, report the entire amount in Box 1 as interest income on your income tax return. However, if you paid acquisition or bond premium or bought at market discount, or if the obligation is a stripped bond or stripped coupon, you must compute your proper amount of OID. See Pub. 1212, List of Original Issue Discount Instruments. Also see Pub. 1212 if the total OID on the obligation for the calendar year is shown and you acquired (other than at original issuance) or disposed of the obligation during the year.

Box 2.—Shows other interest on this obligation for the year, which is an amount separate from the OID. If you held the obligation the entire year, report this amount as interest income on your tax return. If you disposed of the obligation or acquired it from another holder during the year, see Pub. 550, Investment Income and Expenses, for reporting instructions.

Box 3.—Shows the interest or principal forfeited by you if you withdrew the money before the maturity date of the obligation. You may deduct this on your Federal income tax return only on the specific line of Form 1040 under "Adjustments to Income."

Box 4.—Shows backup withholding. For example, persons not furnishing their taxpayer identification number to the payer become subject to backup withholding at a 20% rate on certain payments shown on the form. See Form W-9, Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification, for information on backup withholding Include this amount on your income tax return as tax withheld.

Box 5.—Shows the identification number (CUSIP number) or description of the obligation. The description may include the stock exchange, issuer, coupon rate, and year of maturity. If 'Actual' is shown, the amount in Box 1 is the OID on the obligation for the part of the year you owned it. If "Total" is shown, the amount in Box 1 is the total OID on the obligation for the calendar year.
