

Stop TB in the African-American Community

These resources were developed for individuals who have an interest in TB in the African-American community

Website

www.cdc.gov/tb/TBinAfricanAmericans

This website serves as a central repository for information related to TB in African Americans, such as:

- Epidemiological and background information on TB in African Americans
- Stop TB in the African-American Community Summit resources
- TB Challenge Newsletter: Partnering to Eliminate TB in African Americans
- Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Reports (MMWR) related to TB in African Americans
- TB educational resources for the African-American community
- TB-related electronic mailing lists, newsletters, digests, and web-based resources
- Other links related to TB in African Americans and other populations

Electronic Mailing List

An interactive platform for:

- Posting and receiving messages
- Exchanging information
- Sharing activities, experiences, and resources
- Providing announcements about upcoming events and activities
- Engaging in on-going discussions
- Submitting materials to share with others
- To subscribe, go to:

www.cdc.gov/tb/TBinAfricanAmericans

Click on "Stop TB in the African-American Community Electronic Mailing list"

