

Community Survey

Explore how people in your community would be willing to help by talking to community members, schools, health centers, clinics, and community leaders.

Partnerships

When you are planning and implementing partnerships, consult a variety of community members and tribal leaders and involve them from the start choosing issues that affect them and recognizing their power to help.

