Federal disaster assistance is a nationwide program operated pursuant to the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, 42 U.S.C. 5121 et seq. Supplementary assistance is provided to individuals and State and local governments in the event of a Presidentially declared emergency or major disaster. Funds may be made available directly to a State or local government or to other Federal agencies as reimbursement for expenditures in disaster relief work performed under this authority. In addition, a variety of other Federal agency assistance is coordinated under this program.

The Administration is requesting an appropriation of $307,745,000. In addition, $2,258,485,000 is requested as emergency contingency funds for a total of $2,566,230,000, which represents the five year average for obligations, excluding those for the Northridge earthquake, plus disaster support costs.

The Pre-Disaster Mitigation program is designed to reduce the existing potential of disaster costs for all levels of government and the local economy and to ensure that new construction and community growth is disaster resistant. Under this program, FEMA provides funds for community-identified mitigation projects that reduce the exposure to disaster losses, and hence reduce expenditures from the Disaster Relief Fund. Emphasis is placed on infrastructure protection and broad commitment by the community, its businesses, and its State mitigation goals and objectives.

The Radiological Emergency Preparedness (REP) program assists State and local governments in the development of off-site radiological emergency plans and preparedness within the emergency planning zones of Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) licensed commercial nuclear power facilities. The fund is financed from fees assessed and collected from the NRC licensees to recover the cost of the REP program. The one-time appropriation in 1999 will be used to initiate a fee funded mechanism for the program.

The National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended, authorizes the Federal Government to provide flood insurance on a national basis. Flood insurance may be sold or continued in force only in communities which enact and enforce appropriate flood plain management measures. Communities must participate in the program within one year of the time they are identified as flood-prone in order to be eligible for flood insurance and some forms of Federal financial assistance for acquisition or construction purposes. In 1999, the budget assumes collection of all of the administrative and program costs associated with flood insurance activities from policy holders.

Under the emergency program, structures in identified flood-prone areas are eligible for limited amounts of coverage at subsidized insurance rates. Under the regular program, studies must be made of different flood risks in flood-prone areas to establish actuarial premium rates. These rates are charged for insurance on new construction. Coverage is available on virtually all types of buildings and their contents in amounts up to $350 thousand for residential and $1 million for other types.

Budget program—Insurance underwriting expense.—Cost of initiating and maintaining flood insurance policies is estimated at $391 million in 1999.

Loss and adjustment expense.—Insured flood losses and associated loss adjustment expense is estimated at $744 million in 1999.

Interest expense.—Interest expenses for Treasury borrowings are projected; a ceiling of $60 million is requested to cover charges for purchasing Treasury securities and possible unanticipated interest costs.

The budget proposes to recover the cost of the following activities from policyholders and to reimburse other appropriations in FEMA's budget:

Flood studies and surveys.—These studies are estimated at $52 million in 1999.

Flood hazard reduction.—This activity, which includes grants to States, is estimated at $7 million in 1999.

Mitigation assistance.—This activity is estimated at $20 million for 1999.

Salaries and expenses.—This activity provides for salaries and related expenses of all Federal staff administering the National Flood Insurance Program and is estimated at $23 million in 1999.

Financing.—The Administrator is authorized to borrow up to $1 billion ($1.5 billion in 1997 through 1999 only) to carry out the program. The program is financed through premium income and appropriations to repay borrowing.

Operating results.—Program experience is reviewed annually and, as necessary, flood insurance rates will be adjusted to maintain the NFIP's self-supporting status for the historical average loss year and to maintain the soundness of rates for actuarially rated policies.

Disaster assistance loans authorized by the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act 42 U.S.C. 5121 et seq. are loans to States for the non-Federal portion of cost-sharing funds and community disaster loans to local governments incurring substantial loss of tax and other revenues as a result of a major disaster. The funds requested for this program include direct loans and a subsidy based on criteria including loan amount and interest charged.

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, this account records, for this program, the subsidy costs associated with the direct loans obligated in 1992 and beyond (including modifications of direct loans), as well as administrative expenses of this program. The subsidy amounts are estimated on a present value basis; the administrative expenses are estimated on a cash basis.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISION

【The Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency shall promulgate through rulemaking a methodology for assessment and collection of fees to be assessed and collected beginning in fiscal year 1998 applicable to persons subject to the Federal Emergency Management Agency’s radiological emergency preparedness regulations. The aggregate charges assessed pursuant to this section during fiscal year 1998 shall approximate, but not be less than, 100 per centum of the amounts anticipated by the Federal Emergency Management Agency to be obligated for its radiological emergency preparedness program for such fiscal year. The methodology for assessment and collection of fees shall be fair and equitable, and shall reflect the full amount of costs of providing radiological emergency planning, preparedness, response and associated services. Such fees shall be assessed in a manner that reflects the use of agency resources for classes of regulated persons and the administrative costs of collecting such fees. Fees received pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the general fund of the Treasury as offsetting receipts. Assessment and collection of such fees are only authorized during fiscal year 1998.] (Department of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1998.)
