In 1999, resources are proposed to provide funding for the Department of Justice to accelerate conversion of its wireless radio communications to narrowband operations. Federal Government agencies are required by 47 U.S.C. 903(d)(1) to make more efficient use of their radio spectrum. The National Telecommunications and Information Administration's (NTIA) implementing regulations require that all Federal spectrum users narrow, by one-half, the bandwidth used to transmit radio signals by the year 2005 for Very High Frequency (VHF) allocations and 2008 for Ultra High Frequency (UHF) allocations. The Department's 1999 Budget includes $72,498,000 in additional funding to accelerate the necessary equipment upgrades to comply with these deadlines, of which the Department estimates to use $60,220,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), $10,000,000 for the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), $2,000,000 for the U.S. Marshals Service (USMS), and $278,000 for the Office of the Inspector General. In addition, the level of resources includes $23,396,000 of base radio replacement funding, including $3,859,000 for the FBI, $6,700,000 for the INS, $10,000,000 for the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), $2,500,000 for the Bureau of Prisons, and $337,000 for the USMS. Actual transfers to Department components will depend on approval of narrowbanding implementation plans, including procurement strategies.

COUNTERTERRORISM FUND

For necessary expenses, as determined by the Attorney General, [$20,000,000] $36,703,000, to remain available until expended, to reimburse any Department of Justice organization for (1) the costs incurred in reestablishing the operational capability of an office or facility which has been damaged or destroyed as a result of any domestic or international terrorist incident, (2) the costs of providing support to counter, investigate or prosecute domestic or international terrorism, including payment of rewards in connection with these activities, [and] (3) the costs of conducting a terrorism threat assessment of Federal agencies and their facilities, (4) the costs associated with ensuring the continuance of essential governmental functions during a time of emergency; and (5) the costs for activities related to the protection of the Nation's critical infrastructure: Provided, That any Federal agency may be reimbursed for costs associated with implementation of the recommendations of the President's Commission on Critical Infrastructure Protection: Provided further, [; Provided,] That funds provided under this paragraph shall be available only after the Attorney General notifies the Committees on Appropriations of the House of Representatives and the Senate in accordance with section 605 of this Act.

In addition, for necessary expenses, as determined by the Attorney General, [$32,700,000] $16,000,000, to remain available until expended, to reimburse departments and agencies of the Federal Government for any costs incurred in [connection with—

- (1) counterterrorism technology research and development;
- (2) providing training and related equipment for chemical, biological, nuclear, and cyber attack prevention and response capabilities to State and local law enforcement agencies; and
- (3) providing bomb training and response capabilities to State and local law enforcement agencies.] providing training and related equipment for chemical, biological, nuclear, and cyber attack prevention and response capabilities to State and local agencies. During 1999 it is expected that a significant portion of the funds will be devoted to implementing the recommendations of the President's Commission on Critical Infrastructure Protection. Additionally, $16 million is requested for training and equipment to improve the capabilities of State and local agencies to respond to terrorist incidents involving weapons of mass destruction.

The Communications Assistance for Law Enforcement Act (CALEA) of 1994 authorizes the Attorney General to reimburse telecommunications carriers for costs directly associated with modifying equipment to allow law enforcement to perform court-authorized wiretaps. Activities eligible for reimbursement include modifications performed by carriers in connection with equipment, facilities, and services installed or deployed to comply with the Act. In particular, telecommunications carriers are required to expeditiously isolate and enable intercept of all wire and electronic communications, provide access to call-identifying information that is reasonably available to the carrier, deliver the intercepts and call-identifying information to the government, and provide these services unobtrusively so as to minimize interference to subscriber services.

The Omnibus Consolidated Appropriations Act of 1997 (P.L. 104-208) extended eligibility for reimbursement to telecommunications equipment manufacturers and providers of support services. In addition to direct appropriations to the Fund, Congress authorized Federal agencies with law enforcement and intelligence responsibilities to transfer to the Fund unobligated balances that are available until expended, upon compliance with Congressional notification requirements.

An increase of $100 million in direct appropriations to the Fund is proposed, and will be used to reimburse the telecommunications industry for eligible CALEA activities.

This program includes the Office of the Pardon Attorney (OPA) and the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR). The Pardon Attorney receives and reviews all petitions for clemency, i.e., commutation of sentences and pardons. The Executive Office for Immigration Review contains the Immigration Judge function, the Board of Immigration Appeals, the Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer, and the Office of Management and Administration. EOIR was established January 1, 1983 to improve the immigration hearing and appeal process.

Additional funding of $10.3 million is proposed for 1999. Of this, $9.3 million is requested to coordinate with INS activities. This coordination involves hiring additional immigration Judges, Attorneys, and support positions that will allow EOIR to maintain current performance levels in light of INS program increases. $1 million is proposed to fund Tele-Video conferencing. The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) was statutorily established in the Department of Justice on April 14, 1989. The OIG investigates alleged violations of criminal and civil laws, regulations, and ethical standards arising from the conduct of the Department's employees. The OIG provides leadership and assists management in promoting integrity, economy, efficiency, and effectiveness within the Department and in its financial, contractual, and grant relationships with others. Also by statute, the OIG reports to the Attorney General, Congress, and the public on a semiannual basis regarding its significant activities.

The Audit function is responsible for independent audits and reviews of Department organizations, programs, functions, computer security and information technology systems, and financial statement audits. The audit function also conducts or reviews external audits of expenditures made under Department contracts, grants, and other agreements.

The Investigations function investigates allegations of civil rights violations, bribery, fraud, abuse and violations of other laws, rules and procedures that govern Department employees, contractors, and grantees. This function also develops these cases for criminal prosecution, civil action, or administrative action. In some instances the OIG refers allegations to components within the Department and requests notification of their findings and of any disciplinary action taken.

The Inspections function conducts analyses and makes recommendations to decision makers for improvements in Department programs, policies, and procedures. In addition, this function also conducts shorter and more time-sensitive reviews and evaluations to provide managers with early warnings about possible program deficiencies.

The Special Investigations function investigates allegations of significant interest to the American public and Congress and of vital importance to the Department.

The Executive Direction and Control function provides program direction for the OIG. Responsibilities include policy development, legal counsel, Congressional affairs, planning, budget, finance, personnel, procurement, automated data processing, and general support services.

The United States Parole Commission makes decisions to grant or deny parole to Federal and D.C. Code prisoners serving sentences of one year and a day or more, sets conditions of parole, supervises parolees and mandatory releasees, recommitments parolees in the event of violations of the conditions of supervision, and determines the termination of supervision in accordance with the Parole Commission and Reorganization Act of 1976.

In addition, the Commission seeks to improve the rehabilitation process by monitoring an effective parole supervision program through U.S. probation officers and through research studies that evaluate the effectiveness of parole programs. During 1998, the U.S. Parole Commission assumes responsibility for parole hearings and actions on District of Columbia prisoners under the National Capital Revitalization and Self-Government Improvement Act (P.L. 105-33). For 1999, the Commission is requesting a budget increase of $2,652,000 to implement the provisions of the Act.

The Justice Prisoner and Alien Transportation System (JPATS) is responsible for transporting by air all Federal prisoners and detainees, including sentenced, pretrial, and illegal aliens, whether in the custody of the U.S. Marshals Service, the Bureau of Prisons, or the Immigration and Naturalization Service. JPATS also provides prisoner transportation to the Department of Defense and State and local law enforcement on a space available basis. JPATS will transport prisoners and detainees in a cost effective manner without sacrificing the safety of the public, Federal employees, or those in custody. For 1999, the Fund will receive an initial capitalization of $5,000,000, and the financing of operations will be full-cost recovery based on a mileage and cost-per-seat charge paid by customer agencies. Further, a 1999 increase of $5,000,000 is included for the acquisition of an aircraft. Proceeds from the disposal of aircraft will be deposited into the Fund.

This appropriation is used to pay fees and expenses to witnesses who appear on behalf of the Government in litigation in which the United States is a party. Factors over which the Department of Justice has little control affect the costs incurred. The U.S. Attorneys, the U.S. Marshals, and the Department's six litigating divisions are served by this appropriation.

Fees and expenses of witnesses.—Pays the fees and expenses associated with the preparation and presentation of testimony on behalf of the United States for fact witnesses, who testify as to events or facts about which they have personal knowledge, and for expert witnesses, who provide technical or scientific testimony. This program also pays the fees of physicians and psychiatrists who examine accused persons upon order of the court to determine their mental competency.

Protection of witnesses.—Pays subsistence costs to ensure the safety of Government witnesses whose testimony on behalf of the United States places them or their families in jeopardy.

Victim compensation fund.—Pays relocation and restitution to any victim of a crime committed by a protected witness who causes or threatens death or serious bodily injury.

Private counsel.—Pays private counsel retained to represent Government employees who are sued, charged, or subpoenaed for actions taken while performing their official duties (private counsel expenditures may be authorized for congressional testimony as well as for litigation in instances where government counsel is precluded from representing the employee or private counsel is otherwise appropriate);

Superior Court Informant Protection.—Pays for the short term protection and temporary relocation of informants for the District of Columbia Superior Court.

Reimbursable program.—Receives reimbursement from States and localities to cover the costs of maintaining those State and local organized crime witnesses and their families who have been accepted into the witness protection program.

The Civil Liberties Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-383) authorizes payments to Japanese-Americans whom the Government evacuated, relocated or interned during World War II. The Civil Liberties Act Amendments of 1992 (P.L. 102-371) increased the total authorization for this program to $1.65 billion.

The Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1990, provided advance appropriations for the redress payments. To date, payments have been made on 81,278 cases.

In 1999, carryover funding will support continued implementation of educational activities pursuant to section 106(b) of the Civil Liberties Act of 1988.

The Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984 established the Assets Forfeiture Fund, into which forfeited cash and the proceeds of sales of forfeited property are deposited. Authorities of the fund have been amended by various public laws enacted since 1984. Under current law, authority to use the fund for certain investigative expenses shall be specified in annual appropriation acts. Expenses necessary to seize, detain, inventory, safeguard, maintain, advertise or sell property under seizure are funded through a permanent, indefinite appropriation. In addition, beginning in 1993, other general expenses of managing and operating the asset forfeiture program are paid from the permanent, indefinite portion of the fund. Once all expenses are covered, and statutorily mandated transfers are accomplished, the balance is maintained to meet ongoing expenses of the program. Excess unobligated balances may also be allocated by the Attorney General in accordance with 28 U.S.C. 524(c)(8)(E).

This appropriation provides reimbursement to agencies within the Department of Justice which participate in the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force (OCDETF) Program. The OCDETF Program consists of a nationwide structure of 9 regional task forces which combine the resources and expertise of its 11 member Federal agencies, in cooperation with State and local investigators and prosecutors, to target and destroy major narcotic trafficking and money-laundering organizations. Beginning in 1998, only components within Justice will be reimbursed from this appropriation. Participating agencies in the Departments of Transportation and the Treasury will receive resources from other appropriation accounts. The task forces perform the following activities:

1. Law Enforcement.—This activity includes the resources for direct investigative and support activities of the task forces, focusing on the disruption of drug trafficking controlled by various organized crime enterprises. Organizations participating under the law enforcement function are the Drug Enforcement Administration, Federal Bureau of Investigation, U.S. Customs Service, Internal Revenue Service, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, U.S. Coast Guard, U.S. Marshals Service, and the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

2. Drug Intelligence.—This activity includes the resources to maintain Regional Drug Intelligence Squads (RDIS) in selected regions. The squads gather and disseminate raw data for strategic, operational and tactical intelligence purposes and provide regional intelligence linkage to the National Drug Intelligence Center (NDIC) and member agencies' headquarters.

3. Prosecution.—This activity includes the resources for the prosecution of cases generated through the investigative efforts of task force agents. Litigation efforts are targeted selectively on the criminal leadership involved in drug trafficking and are intended to dissolve organized illicit enterprises. This includes activities designed to secure the seizure and forfeiture of the assets of these enterprises. Participating agencies are the U.S. Attorneys, Criminal Division and Tax Division.

4. Administrative Support.—This activity includes the resources for a Washington-based administrative staff in the Criminal Division which provides policy guidance, central coordination, and administrative support to the headquarters of the 11 member Federal agencies and the 9 regional task forces. The administrative staff is also responsible for financial management, records management, and maintenance of a case tracking system.

The planned distribution of obligations for 1998 and 1999 among the participating Federal agencies, as well as the actual distribution for 1997, is as follows:

The overall objectives of the FBI are to uphold the law—to investigate violations of Federal criminal law, to protect the United States from foreign hostile intelligence efforts, to provide leadership and assistance to other Federal, State, local, and international law enforcement agencies, and to perform these responsibilities in a manner that is faithful to the Constitution and the laws of the United States.

These objectives result in the FBI being actively involved in a wide range of investigations, including traditional law enforcement investigations (bank robbery, kidnaping, fugitive, bank embezzlement, etc.), investigations involving more modern phenomena (organized crime, white-collar crime, drug investigations, gang violence, health care fraud, environmental crimes, civil rights violations, antitrust violations, etc.), and investigations of foreign intelligence activities within the United States. The FBI has concurrent jurisdiction with DEA over Federal drug violations.

The direct programs of the FBI are divided into the following general categories:

Criminal, security, and other investigations.—This activity includes all field investigations of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. These investigations are conducted by FBI Special Agents in 56 field offices and approximately 400 resident offices located throughout the United States and Puerto Rico. National priority investigations include white-collar crime, drugs, organized crime, counterterrorism and foreign counterintelligence, and investigations relating to violent crimes and major offenders. Other investigative areas are civil rights and Indian Country law enforcement.

This activity also includes resources devoted to national program supervision, coordination, and management of FBI investigations, and liaison with foreign police and security services through Legal Attaches.

Highlights of 1999 funding initiatives include: (1) $11.6 million for additional field agents to investigate computer crimes; (2) $10.4 million to enhance the analysis and early warning capability of the Computer Investigations and Infrastructure Threat Assessment Center; (3) $50 million for information technology equipment and services to improve the sharing and analysis of investigative data within the FBI; and (4) $8.1 million for law enforcement in Indian Country, including $4.7 million for Safe Trails Task Forces and $3.4 million for victim/witness assistance.

*Measures reported in past years, such as arrests, indictments, and convictions, are not considered useful indicators of the outcome or impact of law enforcement activities by the Department of Justice. The Department will continue to develop new and more meaningful performance measures as part of the implementation of the Government Performance and Results Act.

Law enforcement support.—This activity consists of training, recruitment, applicant investigations, forensic laboratories, investigative records and communications, ADP and telecommunications, and technical field support and services, identification, and informational services.

Some workload measures include press releases, assistance to media, dissemination of FBI publications, electronic surveillance applications, undercover operations proposals, civil actions, field office audits, and position classification matters.

Health care fraud enforcement.—This activity consists of FBI efforts to combat health care fraud and abuse. Since 1997, the FBI is reimbursed for investigations of health care fraud, as a result of the enactment of the Health Care Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (P.L. 104-191).

The FBI also carries out a number of other activities on a reimbursable basis. The FBI is reimbursed for its participation in Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement programs. Additionally, the FBI is reimbursed by other Federal agencies for certain investigative activities, such as pre-employment background inquiries and fingerprint and name checks, and by non-Federal agencies for pre-employment fingerprint and name checks.

The mission of the DEA is to control abuse of narcotics and dangerous drugs by restricting the aggregate supply of those drugs. At the Federal level, DEA is the lead drug law enforcement agency. DEA accomplishes its objectives through coordination with State, local, and other Federal officials in drug law enforcement activities, development and maintenance of drug intelligence systems, regulation of legitimate controlled substances activities, and enforcement coordination and intelligence-gathering activities with foreign government agencies.

Cooperation among Federal law enforcement agencies is extensive, especially within the nine Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement (ICDE) regional task forces. DEA's involvement is integral to this nationwide coordinated enforcement strategy. With the ICDE program and the expansion of other agency cooperative efforts, overall drug enforcement capabilities have been significantly strengthened in recent years.

The activities of the DEA are divided into the following general categories:

Enforcement—

Domestic enforcement.—This activity encompasses DEA's general efforts to eliminate or immobilize major drug trafficking organizations and thereby reduce the domestic supply of illicit drugs.

Domestic Enforcement includes the majority of the activities encompassed within DEA's 21 domestic field divisions. These activities include efforts to reduce the availability of illicit drugs by immobilizing targeted organizations that are substantially responsible for importation and distribution of drugs and by focusing enforcement operations on specific drug trafficking problems.

State and local task forces.—This activity encompasses efforts to reduce drug availability and immobilize major drug trafficking organizations through intergovernmental cooperation with State and local law enforcement agencies and through DEA's Mobile Enforcement Team Program. There are currently 103 program-funded and 52 provisional State and Local Task Forces and 23 Mobile Enforcement Teams participating in the program.

Measures reported in past years, such as arrests, indictments, and convictions, are not considered useful indicators of the outcome or impact of law enforcement activities by the Department of Justice. The Department will continue to develop new and more meaningful performance measures as part of the implementation of the Government Performance and Results Act. The measures below reflect the level of activity performed by this program.

DEA cases initiated	1,541	1,618	1,699
Other federal referral cases initiated	1,394	1,464	1,537
DEA cooperative cases initiated	7,901	8,296	8,710
State and Local Task Force cases initiated	6,545	6,872	7,216
DEA-OCDEF cases initiated	270	284	298
Clandestine labs seized	1,232	1,294	1,359

Foreign cooperative investigations.—This activity encompasses efforts to (1) disrupt, as close to the source as possible, production of opium, heroin, cocaine, marijuana, and illicitly produced and diverted legitimate dangerous drugs destined for the United States, and (2) collect and disseminate intelligence regarding narcotics production and trafficking. The measure below reflects the level of activity performed by this program.

	1997 actual	1998 est.	1999 est.
Foreign cases initiated	899	944	991

Chemical diversion control.—This activity seeks to reduce the diversion of legitimately produced controlled chemicals into illicit channels at all levels of distribution and to provide the leadership and support necessary to ensure that State and local agencies and the chemical industry establish and maintain programs and policies to control diversion. The Drug Diversion Control activities are funded from the Drug Diversion Control Fee Account.

The measure below reflects the level of activity performed by this program.

Investigative Support—

Intelligence.—This activity encompasses the collection, analysis, and dissemination of drug intelligence in support of the enforcement operations of DEA and other Federal, State and local agencies.

DEA laboratory services.—This activity encompasses laboratory analysis of evidence and expert testimony in support of the investigation and prosecution of drug traffickers. The measure below reflects the level of activity performed by this program.

Laboratory exhibits analyzed	54,457	57,180	60,039

DEA training.—This activity encompasses entry level training for all special agents, diversion investigators, and intelligence analysts; advanced, in-service and specialized training for investigative and other personnel; executive, mid-level management, and supervisory training for appropriate agency officials; and foreign language training for DEA personnel assigned to overseas and border offices as needed. In 1998, training will focus on basic agent, in-service and specialized training activities. The measures below reflect a portion of the level of activity performed by this program.

Agents trained (basic)	429	450	473
Diversion investigators trained (basic)	61	40	40
Intelligence specialist trained (basic)	21	285	285
Forensic chemists trained	22	70	70

Research, engineering, and technical operations.—This activity encompasses providing high quality and timely radio communications capability, technical and investigative equipment assistance support, maintenance and operation of an aircraft fleet, and research programs directly related to the DEA law enforcement and intelligence functions.

ADP and telecommunications.—This activity encompasses automated data processing and telecommunication support on a nationwide and worldwide basis.

Records management.—This activity encompasses effective and efficient records management, Freedom of Information/Privacy Act, and library support.

Program Direction—

Management and Administration.—This activity encompasses the overall management, contracting, and direction of DEA to include personnel, general services, and Equal Employment Opportunity functions.

Reimbursable program.—The primary reimbursements to DEA are for the Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement program, the training of foreign drug law enforcement officials (funded by the Department of State), and the expenses incurred in managing seized assets and other purposes for which DEA is reimbursed from the Department of Justice Assets Forfeiture Fund.

Public Law 102-395 established the Diversion Control Fee Account in 1993. Fees charged by the Drug Enforcement Administration under the Diversion Control Program are set at a level that ensures the recovery of the full costs of operating the various aspects of the program. The purpose of this program is to prevent, detect, and investigate the diversion of controlled substances from legitimate channels, while at the same time ensuring an adequate and uninterrupted supply of controlled substances required to meet legitimate needs.

The measures below reflect the level of activity performed by this program.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service is responsible for administering laws relating to the admission, exclusion, deportation, and naturalization of aliens. Specifically, the Service inspects aliens to determine their admissibility into the United States; adjudicates requests of aliens for benefits under the law; prevents illegal entry into the United States; investigates, apprehends, and removes aliens in this country in violation of the law; and examines alien applicants wishing to become citizens.

Enforcement.—This activity contains resources for preventing illegal entry into the United States and facilitating the entry of qualified persons. This includes inspection of applicants for admission, patrol of the border, and the location of illegal aliens who are in the United States following illegal entry or violation of status after legal entry. Apprehensions are made through the inspection of places of employment, by the investigation of information about the location of undocumented aliens, and through investigative case work. Also included are the resources for the Service's nationwide anti-smuggling program and for the detention and deportation of illegal aliens. Additional resources requested in 1999 will provide for 1,000 new Border Patrol agents ($103 million), resources for the Land Border Port Management Strategy ($9 million), Border enforcement technology ($14.6 million), and to enhance the interior enforcement strategy ($19.5 million). Additional enforcement enhancements would provide for the identification and deportation of illegal aliens ($75 million).

Most reimbursements received by the Service are from the inspections, examination, and land border fee programs. Also included are reimbursements for retrofitting conveyances for drug law enforcement purposes and for managing and operating the vehicle seizure program. These resources are from the Department of Justice Assets Forfeiture Fund. Resources are also received for participation in the Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement program.

The Immigration Emergency Fund, established by the Immigration Reform and Control Act and funded by Public Law 101-162, provides funds for possible increases in border patrol and other enforcement activities, and for reimbursement to States and localities for assistance in meeting an immigration emergency. The Immigration Act of 1990, however, amended these provisions and allows for reimbursement to States and localities at the discretion of the Attorney General in the event that asylum applications in a district exceed a certain amount during a given quarter; if lives, property, safety or welfare of the residents of a State or locality are endangered; or in other circumstances as determined by the Attorney General.

Federal Prison Industries, Inc., was created by Congress in 1934 and is a wholly-owned Government corporation. Its mission is to employ and train Federal inmates through a diversified program providing products and services to other Federal agencies. These operations are conducted in such a manner as to offer a minimum of competition to private industry and labor. Employment provides inmates with work, occupational knowledge and skills, plus money for personal expenses and family assistance.

The Corporation has been expanding its operations to provide additional industrial employment opportunities at existing and planned institutions.

Budget program.—Federal Prison Industries, Inc., operations are entirely self-sustaining. No appropriations are required. The amounts used by the Corporation for administrative expenses are subject to a congressional limitation. Information regarding this limitation is provided separately following this account.

Financing program.—Revenues are derived entirely from the sale of products and services to other Federal agencies. Operating expenses are applied against these revenues, resulting in operating income or loss. Earnings surplus to the needs of the manufacturing operations, capital improvements and cash reserves are used to pay accident compensation.

Operating results.—To date, Federal Prison Industries, Inc., has returned to the Treasury a total of $82 million of retained income excess to the Corporation's needs. No contributions from budget authority have been made to offset deficits for non-revenue producing outlays since the inception of the fund.

The Office of Justice Programs (OJP) carries out policy coordination and general management responsibilities for the Bureau of Justice Assistance, Bureau of Justice Statistics, National Institute of Justice, Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, the Office for Victims of Crime, and four (4) program offices. The following OJP programs are funded through the Justice Assistance account.

Research, evaluation, and demonstration programs.—Funds provide for and encourage the development of basic and applied research for the improvement of Federal, State, and local criminal, civil, and juvenile justice systems; new methods for the prevention and reduction of crime and the detection, apprehension, and rehabilitation of criminals; and the dissemination of the results of such research efforts. In 1999, $6 million is requested to support the D.C. revitalization initiative.

Technology centers.—These technology centers were established to bring technology information directly to law enforcement agencies, principally to State and local levels, and to provide a source of objective technology information.

Criminal justice statistical programs.—Funds provide for the collection and analysis of statistical information concerning crime, victims, offenders, criminal justice processes, juvenile delinquency, and civil disputes in support of public and private policy and decisionmaking about society's response to crime; planning, coordination, implementation and provision of technical assistance to States to initiate innovative applications of communications and information systems technology for State and local criminal justice systems; and assurance of conformance with privacy and security regulations.

National Sexual Offender Registry.—These funds will be granted to States to establish and upgrade sex offender registries and to create a capability to interface with other law enforcement systems. In 1999, no funds are requested for this program under this account. Rather, funds requested for the 1999 Criminal Records Upgrade program, which is appropriated under the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund, will be used to support this effort.

Emergency assistance.—Funds are used to provide emergency assistance to a State or locality after the Attorney General has determined that a law enforcement emergency exists. A law enforcement emergency is a situation wherein the capacity of local resources has been exceeded. No funds are requested in 1999.

Missing children.—Funds are used to reduce the incidence of crimes against children, particularly kidnaping and sexual exploitation, by assisting families, citizen groups, law enforcement agencies and government institutions in a national effort to insure the safety and protection of children.

Regional information sharing system.—Funds aid State and local law enforcement agencies in the exchange of intelligence information.

National White Collar Crime Center.—Funds provide assistance to State and local law enforcement and regulatory agencies in addressing multi-jurisdictional white collar crimes.

Local firefighter and emergency services training.—Funds are used to train and equip metropolitan fire and emergency service departments to respond to terrorist acts. In 1999, no funds are requested for this program under this account. Rather, $5,000,000 is requested for this program under the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund.

Terrorism training.—Funds are used to train State and local law enforcement agencies to prevent terrorist acts and to effectively manage multi-agency responses to terrorist acts.

Development of domestic counterterrorism technologies.—Funds are used to develop and identify anti-terrorism technologies that can be used by State and local law enforcement agencies to respond to terrorist acts. In 1999, no funds are requested for this program under this account. Rather, $10,000,000 is requested for this program under the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund.

Management and administration.—Funds provide executive direction and control, program operation, and administrative support of the Office of Justice Programs.

Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF) resources support a wide range of programs to assist State and local governments with crime and drug control efforts. Funding is provided for prevention, law enforcement, and corrections assistance and support the following programs and activities.

Criminal records upgrade program.—Expands the program established in 1995 under the Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act and the National Child Protection Act of 1993. The program provides financial and technical assistance to all States to improve their ability to identify criminal histories of felons and other persons ineligible to purchase firearms or hold positions involving children, the elderly, or the disabled.

Incarceration of undocumented aliens program.—Funds provide for a program to reimburse States and political subdivisions of states for a portion of the costs incurred for the imprisonment of criminal aliens.

Correctional facilities grants.—Funds provide assistance to States to provide adequate space to incarcerate violent offenders and to implement truth-in-sentencing by ensuring that convicted violent offenders serve a specific percentage of their sentences behind bars.

State prison drug treatment.—Funds provide assistance to States to establish residential substance abuse treatment programs in State prisons and local correctional and detention facilities, aimed at reducing recidivism by ensuring that offenders are held accountable for their actions by addressing the myriad problems associated with the lifestyle of drug use and addiction.

Byrne formula grants.—Funds provide assistance to States to develop programs to fight drugs, violence, and gangs in a coordinated manner throughout a State.

Drug courts.—Funds provide assistance to States and local units of government to develop and implement programs for non-violent offenders with substance abuse problems. These programs use the power of the courts and continuing supervision to coerce abstinence through graduated sanctions and the integrated administration of other services such as drug testing and drug treatment.

Violence against women.—Funds provide assistance to States, local units of government and to other public or private entities to develop and strengthen effective law enforcement and prosecution strategies to combat violence against women, to implement proarrest programs, to establish and expand cooperative efforts to address domestic violence and child abuse in rural areas, and to provide victim services.

Among new programs in 1999 are the Prosecutorial initiative that targets gangs, gang violence, and other violent juvenile crimes, the Community prosecutor initiative; the Drug testing and intervention initiative that develops and implements comprehensive systems of drug testing treatment and graduated sanctions; and the Youth violence courts program that develops and implements programs focused on violent youth offenders within the court system.
