CHAPTER 5*EMPLOYMENT0501 NOTE: REPEAL OF REPORTING/REDUCTIONS

Section 651, Public Law 106-65, October 5, 1999, repealed section 5532 of title 5, United States Code (U.S.C.) effective October 1, 1999. As a result, reductions in military retired pay based on 5 U.S.C. 5532 will not apply to periods of entitlement on or after October 1, 1999.

0502 CONFLICT OF INTEREST050201. General

A. Conflict of interest statutes are intended to safeguard the integrity of public administration and prevent government officials from using their positions and influence for personal gain.

B. The conflict of interest statutes applicable in general to those whose government service has ended accomplish these purposes by:

1. Imposing limitation in some cases upon the employment of former DoD procurement personnel by defense contractors;

2. Requiring the employment of such personnel by defense contractors in other instances be reported; and

3. Restricting the activities of former DoD officers and employees in representing or assisting their employers in claims-related matters or becoming personally involved in the process of “selling” to the government.

C. A comprehensive digest of laws, including conflict of interest laws applicable to retired military personnel, is set forth in DoD 5500.7-R, “Joint Ethics Regulation,” (reference (bb)), Chapters 5 and 9, and Appendix A.

D. Although violation of conflict of interest laws may result in the imposition of criminal penalties (including fines and imprisonment) or administrative fines and sanctions, entitlement to military retired pay is directly affected only when:

1. A retired Regular officer is convicted of violating 18 U.S.C. 281(a) (reference (bc)) during any period prior to October 13, 1994; or

2. Any member is convicted of violating the Hiss Act (5 U.S.C. 8311-8322) (reference (bd)).

E. Fines levied for convictions under other statutes may result in debts to the United States that may be collected in accordance with Chapter 28. However, they do not affect a convicted member's entitlement to receive retired pay.

050202. Selling

A. "Selling," as an activity under the conflict of interest laws, is prohibited during any time prior to October 13, 1994, under 18 U.S.C. 281(a) (reference (bc)). A retired Regular officer may not, during the 2-year period following retirement, represent any person in the sale of anything to the Department in which the officer holds retired status. This statute has been interpreted by the Department of Justice as prohibiting a retired Regular officer from representing any party other than himself in connection with a contract for the sale of services or for the sale of supplies. Since an officer is disqualified from holding a position of honor, trust, or profit under the United States as a result of conviction, entitlement to retired pay ceases.

B. The prohibition against selling has been broadly interpreted to include virtually all activities involved in the selling process and to apply in any case reasonably within the scope of the statute where the conduct at which it was directed could arise.

C. The following activities are examples of conduct by retired Regular officers that might be interpreted as selling:

1. Contacting military installations or consulting with DoD officials to obtain information on current or projected military needs and suggesting new lines of potential product development to member's employer.

2. Attending precontract negotiations or preproposal conferences with other members of the employer's firm.

3. Making contacts to promote goodwill that directly or indirectly may result in sales to Uniformed Services agencies or their nonappropriated fund instrumentalities.

4. Giving demonstrations and explaining products with a view toward an eventual sale on behalf of an employer.

5. Making contacts at social functions sponsored by the employer with Uniformed Services personnel who are in positions to influence procurement.

6. Making calls at installations to render technical assistance, update catalog materials, or provide information on companies represented.

7. Contacting procurement and budget personnel on behalf of the employer to discuss general trends in the military environment.

8. Conducting promotional seminars on supplies or products already sold by the employer to the Department of Defense.

D. Whether the retired officer acted in good faith, was ignorant of the law, or will experience financial hardship, has no effect upon the requirement to withhold retired pay for the period of statutory violation.

★ E. See Table 5-1 for synopsis of decisions which relate to conflict of interest statutes.

050203. Withholding Retired Pay. Retired pay may be withheld when the employment falls under the category of activities prohibited under conflict of interest laws.

0503 FOREIGN GOVERNMENT EMPLOYMENT

050301. Background

A. Employment of retired members by a foreign government is restricted. The primary restriction is in article 1, section 9, clause 8 of the Constitution of the United States (reference (bf)), which reads: “No Title of Nobility shall be granted by the United States: And no person holding any Office of Profit or Trust under them, shall, without the Consent of Congress, accept any present, emolument, office, or title, of any kind whatever, from any King, Prince, or foreign state.” The Comptroller General interpreted this to prohibit employment of all retired personnel, including members of the Fleet Reserve or Fleet Marine Corps Reserve, by a foreign government unless congressional consent is granted.

B. The conditions for accepting foreign employment were modified by Public Law 95-105, section 509(a)(1) and (2) (reference (bg)). The Congress granted consent for retired members to accept employment or compensation from foreign governments if the members obtain the approval of the Secretary concerned and the Secretary of State before acceptance.

1. The approval by the Secretary concerned and Secretary of State for a member to accept foreign employment is only effective prospectively from the date the approval is granted and may not be made retroactively to authorize foreign employment and compensation received before approval is granted.

2. The compensation received from the foreign government without approval is considered received by the retired member for the United States. A debt in favor of the government is created which is to be collected by withholding from retired pay. The debt is an amount equal to the compensation received from the foreign government. When the compensation earned during the period of unauthorized employment exceeds the amount of retired pay accrued during the same period, only the retired pay amount may be collected.

050302. Legislative History

A. The history of the constitutional provisions under consideration indicates that the condition intended to be avoided is the exercise of undue influence by a foreign government upon retired members of the United States.

B. In determining the existence of an employer-employee relationship between a retired member and a foreign government, or instrumentality thereof, the common law rules of agency are applied to determine whether such instrumentality has the right to control and direct an employee in performance of his or her work and the manner in which the work is done.

C. There are at least five criteria that may be considered in determining whether the relationship of employer and employee exists. They are:

1. The selection and engagement of the employee.
2. The payments of wages.
3. The power to discharge.
4. The power to control the employee's conduct.
5. The relationship of the work to the employer's business, whether the work is a part of the regular business of the employer.

D. The decisive test to determine the existence of an employer-employee relationship is whether the employer has the right to control and direct the employee in the performance of his or her work and in the manner in which the work is to be done. Additionally, the Comptroller General has ruled that a corporation incorporated in the United States, which maintains a separate identity and appears to be a separate legal entity from its dominant shareholder, does not necessarily become an instrumentality of a foreign government when its principal shareholder is a foreign corporation substantially owned by a foreign government.

050303. Types of Employment

A. Employment by educational or commercial institutions owned, operated, or controlled by a foreign government is included within the scope of this restriction.

B. Employment with a foreign government which requires acquisition of foreign citizenship results in forfeiture of entitlement to retired pay. See Chapter 6 of this volume for additional information.

C. Employment by international agencies, such as the United Nations, is not prohibited.

050304. Adjustment to Retired Pay

A. Withhold retired pay in an amount equal to the amount of compensation received from the foreign government. Compensation includes salary, free transportation, household goods shipments at employer's expense, housing allowances, and gifts. To determine the amount to be withheld from a member on account of the nonmilitary elements of compensation, the value should be set fairly, considering the actual value or estimates of the compensation received. A gift of more than minimal value is deemed to have been accepted on behalf of the United States. It is deposited by the donee for use and disposal as property of the United States.

B. Amounts of retired pay withheld from members of the Uniformed Services who accept foreign employment without congressional consent, as required by the United States Constitution, should be treated as though the member has no entitlement to them and should not be "held in trust" for them pending possible future congressional consent to their receipt.

0504 FEDERAL JUDGES050401. General

A. Title 10, U.S.C. Judges. A person who has completed a term of service as a judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces may be eligible for a retirement annuity upon separation from civilian service in the federal government. Retirement annuities and survivor annuities for judges retired from the United States Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces are paid from the DoD Military Retirement Fund.

B. Title 28, U.S.C. (reference (av)) Judges. Any justice or judge of the United States appointed to hold office during good behavior may retire after meeting age and service requirements.

050402. Limitations

A. Title 10, (reference (c)) U.S.C. Judges. A person who is receiving a retirement annuity by reason of service as a judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces, and who subsequently is appointed to a position in the Federal Government, is entitled to the higher of the retirement annuity as a judge or the pay for the Federal Government position.

★ B. Title 28, U.S.C. Judges. A member who became a judge could not receive military retired pay while performing regular judicial active service as a judge. On and after October 1, 1999, this restriction has been repealed and military retired pay shall be resumed without reduction.

0505 SERVICE IN MILITARY FORCE OF NEWLY DEMOCRATIC NATIONS050501. Background

A. The Congress has consented to a retired member of the Uniformed Services accepting employment by, or holding an office or position in, the military forces of a newly democratic nation and accepting compensation associated with such employment, office, or position.

B. The Secretary concerned and the Secretary of State jointly shall determine whether a nation is a newly democratic nation.

050502. Approval Required

The consent provided for a member of the Uniformed Services to accept employment or hold an office or position shall apply to a retired member only if the Secretary concerned and the Secretary of State jointly approve the employment or the holding of such office or position.

050503. Continued Entitlement to Retired Pay and Benefits

The eligibility of retired members to receive retired or retainer pay and other benefits arising from the member's status as a retired member of the Uniformed Services may not be terminated by reason of employment or holding of an office or position consented to in paragraph 050502, above. The eligibility of such retired member's dependents to benefits also may not be terminated.
