BLM to Host Volunteer Work Day at North Bank Habitat Management Area

Roseburg, OR- The Bureau of Land Management has planned a volunteer work day to perform habitat restoration to benefit salmon. The work will take place on the North Bank Habitat Management Area, 12 miles east of Wilbur. Volunteers will help remove invasive weed species. The work day is May 17 from 9 A.M. until noon.

The event is planned in coordination with SOLV (Stop Oregon Litter and Vandalism); please RSVP on their website at: www.solv.org

The event is limited to the first 20 people to register on their website. Please register with SOLV by May 15.

Please wear work boots and bring gloves and hand pruners (if available). Be aware that there are steep slopes and poison oak in the work area. A barbeque lunch will be provided to all volunteers.

For further information, please call BLM Botanist Julie Knurowski (541) 464-3349, or you can contact SOLV directly at 1 (800) 333-SOLV.
