

A person with memory loss may not remember phone numbers and sometimes forgets to hang up the phone, which could be dangerous if there is an emergency. It is important to equip the person with the appropriate phone to ensure his or her safety.

13. Telephone Devices

AUTOMATIC TELEPHONE “HANGER-UPPER”

by The Alzheimer’s Store
$35–$40

The Automatic Telephone “Hanger-Upper” has its own bell that rings if a call comes in, whether the phone is on the cradle or not!

Available from The Alzheimer’s Store.

TELEPHONES

905 Big Button Plus Telephone
by AT & T
$20–$30

This big button telephone features extra-large buttons that allow a person with Alzheimer’s disease to easily dial a phone number. This is beneficial if there is an emergency and your loved one needs to call for help.

Available at Kmart and other stores.

Memory Phone

by The Alzheimer's Store

$55-$65

The Memory Phone has eight pushbutton frames for pictures of friends and family. These buttons can be programmed to dial the phone number of the person in the picture. This phone features:

- An adjustable receiver amplification system
- Volume controls for the ringer
- Large easy-to-read number buttons for direct dialing

Available from The Alzheimer's Store.

