

National Wildland Fire Program

GSA recognizes that many state and local governments routinely need resources and assistance to protect life and property from wildland fires that threaten their communities.

By working in partnership with the U.S. Forest Service, GSA can help by offering a wide range of firefighting products and services to help support this critical mission. GSA has furnished wildland fire protection equipment and supplies to state, local, federal and U.S. Forest Service cooperating agencies via this special program since 1987. We're committed to assisting in program implementation whenever possible with these objectives in mind:

- Facilitate advance procurement,
- Assist in the standardization of wildland fire equipment and supplies,
- Effect savings through consolidated purchasing, and
- Provide for the direct distribution of items to field units.

In accordance with the "Interagency Agreement for Equipment/Supplies in Support of Wildland Fire Protection" the Forest Service, working with GSA, determines and identifies new and preexisting wildland firefighting supplies and equipment requirements. Once established, these items are listed in the annually updated Wildland Fire Equipment Catalog. GSA Global Supply currently stocks more than 250 items, including:

- Water handling equipment and supplies
- Fire line tools
- Fire shelters
- Protective clothing
- Canteens
- Field packs
- Sleeping bags
- Batteries
- Chainsaw chaps
- First aid kits
- Goggles and safety glasses
- Gloves
- Tents

State and local agencies can procure these items through GSA upon receipt of a written cooperative agreement with the Forest Service. Following approval, acquisition of critical resources through GSA is simple and unfailing.
