

As the oxen and mule teams became very weak or tired, pioneers threw out everything that was not necessary to lighten the wagon load for the animals. Heavy cook stoves, furniture, bedding, clothing, and even extra food were left behind on the Trail.

