This publication is a listing of resources providing technical and professional-level information on dietary supplements and is available online at <http://www.nal.usda.gov/fnic/pubs/bibs/gen/dietarysupplementsprofessionals08.pdf>. The resources selected include nutrition information on vitamins, minerals, antioxidants, phytochemicals, herbs, botanicals, and other specific dietary supplements. For consumer-oriented resources on these topics, see the following Food and Nutrition Information Center (FNIC) resource lists:

Dietary Supplements: General Resources for Consumers

<http://www.nal.usda.gov/fnic/pubs/bibs/gen/dietarysupplementsconsumers06.pdf>

This list refers to evidence-based information about dietary supplements and is not intended to provide specific medical advice. The Food and Nutrition Information Center (FNIC) urges you to consult with a qualified physician, pharmacist and/or registered dietitian concerning the use of any dietary supplement. The use of trade, firm, or corporation names in this publication is for the information and convenience of the reader. Such use does not constitute an official endorsement or approval by the Federal government.

The resources listed contain accurate nutrition information and are available nationwide. Opinions expressed in the publications do not necessarily reflect the views of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Your local library or bookstore can help you locate these resources. Materials cited cannot be purchased from the National Agricultural Library. Please contact the publisher/producer if you wish to purchase any materials on this list.
