To Whom it may Concern:

I am writing to comment on the proposed voluntary labeling of U.S. Cattle and fresh beef products.

I ~~do~~ do not support the labeling of imported cattle with the "U.S.A. Beef" and or "Fresh American Beef" that are fed a minimum of 100 days, 6 months or any other time period and processed in the United States. Anything that is labeled this way is nothing but pure ~~def~~ deception to the American consumer. Made in the U.S.A., U.S.A., Beef or Fresh American Beef should mean just that period.

I strongly support the current definition of U.S. beef ~~comin~~ coming from cattle born raised, slaughtered and processed in the United States of America. All other definitions of U.S. Beef would be misleading to consumers and disingenuous to U.S. producers.

Sincerely
Kenny Fox Bellvidere S.D.
