Item 5.9 of agenda item 6 in the CODEX committee's proposal concerning the labeling of dietary supplements is flawed. Consumers, not medical practitioners, should decide what food supplements they shall take. A statement on supplement labels to the effect that such foodstuffs should only be taken if advised or prescribed by medical people is in direct violation of DSHEA of 1994. Such wording SHOULD NOT be placed on any non-drug products!

Sincerely,

Pete Diffenderfer, Ph.D.
