Dear USDA Food Safety & Labeling:

I purchase fresh chicken because I believe it to be healthy and natural. I am very concerned that fresh chicken is being labeled as "Natural" when it in fact has added water, salt, seaweed extracts like carrageenan, and other fillers. Natural chicken should not contain any additives or fillers.

I strongly urge you to only allow 100% natural chicken (with no additives) to be labeled as Natural. I also urge you to require chicken producers to identify all added ingredients in BOLD print to ensure consumers can make informed and healthful choices.

As a member of the Truthful Labeling Coalition, I will be following this issue. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Macon Test
