

Santa Fe Regional Future Land Use and Growth Management Plan
Table of Contents

---

Acknowledgements	i
Executive Summary	v
Chapter 1. Introduction
1.1 Why a Regional Plan for Santa Fe?	1
1.2 The RPA Planning Area	1
1.3 The General, Community, Corridor and District Plans	4
1.4 Framework for the Plan: Regional Principles and Policies	6
1.5 Preferred Patterns and Allocation of Development	11
Chapter 2. Existing Conditions
2.1 Population and Housing	15
2.2 Economy and Employment	19
2.3 Existing Water Supply and Demand	24
Chapter 3. Projected Conditions
3.1 Population and Housing	31
3.2 Economy and Employment	35
3.3 Future Water Supply and Demand	41
Chapter 4. Land Uses and Development Patterns
4.1 Existing Land Uses, Vacant Lands and Development Patterns	50
4.2 Future Land Use Designations and Future Land Use Map	58
4.3 Land Use Regulations and Implementation	63
Chapter 5. Development Capacity and Expected Needs
5.1 Development Capacity based on Vacant Lands	68
5.2 Expected Needs	71
5.3 Land Consumption and Development Intensity (Capacity versus Need)	72
5.4 Pending Development	74
5.2 Summary of Findings	76
Chapter 6. Choices for Future Growth
6.1 Choices for Future Growth	79
6.2 Elements of Future Growth	80
6.3 The Growth Management Strategy	86
6.4 Growth Management Implementation	91

Santa Fe Regional Future Land Use and Growth Management Plan
Table of Contents

---

Chapter 7. Conclusions – Tale of Two Futures
7.1 Regional Future Trends	95
7.2 Regional Planning through Principles and Policies, Future Land Uses and Growth Management	97
7.3 In Closing	98
 Appendices	 100
I. Glossary of Terms
II. Regional Policy Workshop Results
III. Vacant Lands Analysis
IV. Santa Fe Regional Population, Housing, Employment and Non- Residential Floor Area Projections, Alfred M. Pitts
V. Water Demand Tables by Land Uses (City and RPA)	