

Reported Cases of Lyme Disease by Month of Illness Onset United States, 1992-2004

Lyme disease patients are most likely to have illness onset in June, July, or August and less likely to have illness onset from December through March.