

University of California Sustainable Agriculture Research and Education Program

Strengthening sustainable food and farming systems in California

WWW.SAREP.UCDAVIS.EDU

UC SAREP works in tandem with campus- and county-based programs, and other partners to

- assist California farmers and ranchers in developing ecologically-based production systems and alternative marketing strategies,
- support local communities by strengthening participation in sustainable food and agricultural systems.

Visit us online for resources and information on:

- sustainable crop and livestock production
- local marketing and community food systems
- biologically integrated farming systems
- organic farming

UC SAREP
University of California
One Shields Ave.
Davis, CA 95616
Tel. (530) 752-7556
Fax (530) 754-8550
Email sarep@ucdavis.edu

Bookmark funding provided by the Western Region USDA SARE program. For information on competitive grants and other sustainable agriculture activities throughout the west, visit Western SARE on the Web at wsare.usu.edu

WWW.SAREP.UCDAVIS.EDU