Patron Wireless Authentication

This document outlines the steps necessary to connect your laptop to the library's wireless service.

1. After turning on the laptop and connecting to the library's SSID (SSID is a term used describe a network name being broadcasted on a wireless network), open a web browser.

Note Since the exact configuration of each user's machine is unknown, a general set of instructions have been presented. You may have a few more screens display while connecting to the wireless network.

- 2. Upon opening a web browser, you will be prompted to accept the security certificate.
- 3. Click "Yes" to proceed.

4. Once the Certificate is accepted the log in page is displayed.
