ASPARAGUS

EARLY SEASON

JERSEY GIANT-A popular choice for both the home gardener and the commercial grower. The Giant is tolerant to the colder climates. Its spears emerge approximately 7 to 10 days earlier than other varieties. A high yielder with great taste.

JERSEY SUPREME-The Supreme has the highest yields of all the Jersey male hybrids. It has medium sized spears with a great taste. Like the Jersey Giant, this variety is also earlier and cold tolerant.

MID SEASON

JERSEY KNIGHT-Our choice for the home gardener. It does very well in the warmer climates. The Knight has the best spear quality with a thin, uniform appearance. It is a favorite for the Roadside Markets.

STRAWBERRY

EARLY SEASON

EARLIGLOW—Our most popular variety! Earliglow has always been known for its irresistibly sweet flavor. Researchers at Cornell U. have found that the sweet flavor contains high levels of antioxidants that benefit in the body's fight against cancer and heart disease. It is popular for growers because of its berry size and disease resistance.

HONEOYE—A heavy yielder with excellent winter tolerance. It produces large, firm berries making this a perfect freezing variety. Honeoye has shown good resistance to fruit rot. Flavor is best when it is grown in lighter soils.

SURECROP—A great beginner berry! This variety is an extremely vigorous plant. It will grow well in almost all soil types. The Surecrop is a good yielder of firm, medium to large sized berries. It is disease resistant and great for freezing. It has been called the "dessert berry" because of its sub-acid flavor.

WENDY—A newer Canadian variety with conic shaped berries that are bright red colored and firm. Wendy has a great wholesome flavor with plants that are vigorous and runner well. Resistant to red stele but susceptible to verticillium wilt. PP18340

ALLSTAR—A very popular variety due to its taste and growing attributes. Growers love the Allstar because of its vigor and delicious tasting berries. Allstar produces a firm, orange-red berry. An all around great variety for shipping, freezing or eating fresh.

BLUEBERRY

EARLY SEASON

EARLIBLUE-(3 yr old 18-24" plant) Earliblue is a producer of firm, light blue, large berries with resistance to cracking. It has a mild sweet flavor and ripens uniformly.

DUKE-(3 yr old 18-24" plant) Vigorous and high yielding, this early season variety has top quality, large, firm berries. When researched, the Duke was considered one of the best varieties on the market. Pleasantly adaptable to many areas.

PATRIOT-(3 yr old 18-24" plant) An excellent winter tolerant variety with extremely large berries. A U. of Maine release, this variety is high yielding and hardy. Used for landscaping purposes, the Patriot is a popular choice for home gardeners.

MID SEASON

BLUECROP-(3 yr old 18-24" plant) A variety whose heavy yields and winter tolerance has made it the top variety used today. Large berries with a bright color hold their size throughout the season. A quality berry for freezing or eating fresh.

BLUERAY-(3 yr old 18-24" plant) This variety produces large, dark berries with an excellent flavor. The Blueray is high yielding and vigorous. Its large, tight clusters are easy to pick.

LATE SEASON

COVILLE-(3 yr old 18-24" plant) Extend your harvest with this late season variety. Very large, firm berries with a slightly tart taste make for an excellent dessert berry. Allow berries to fully ripen to improve the flavor.

JERSEY-(3 yr old 18-24" plant) The Jersey is known for its candy sweet, dark blue berries with uniformly shaped bushes. This variety is hardy and consistently outperforms others in yields and vigor. It has an excellent winter tolerance.

Plant a Goji and become a healthier you!

GOJI MANIA

The King of Antioxidants

The Goji Berry plant found in the Himalayan mountains produces berries that are being called the world's most powerful anti-aging food. For centuries the Chinese have used plants, roots and berries for treating disease and for their anti-aging properties. As time goes along, researchers are looking at fruits and vegetables as the natural way to live longer and healthier. Perhaps we should have taken a step back into Chinese medicine years ago!

LYCIUM BARBARUM-This variety is the TRUE Himalayan Goji Berry. It will produce small, beautiful white and purple trumpet shaped flowers. Early Fall, the flowers will mature into the Goji Berry. Eat the sweet berries fresh, dried or make your own Goji Berry juice!
