Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing to protest this latest attempt to restrict the availability of compounded medication. I have been greatly helped by compounded drugs and I'm very angry at the constant attacks on these pharmacies. Compounded drugs should be available to all people. Stop bowing down to the pharmaceutical companies and their quest for patents and profits. You are supposed to be serving the interests of the public! Stop this latest legislation and allow freedom for the practice and distribution of compounded drugs. In addition, you must allow compounding pharmacists the right to recommend compounded drugs to doctors and patients.

Thank You.
