Jane Henney, M.D.
Commissioner, F.D.A.

As an octogenarian <sup>4034</sup> ~~with~~ <sup>with</sup> ~~children~~ <sup>and children</sup> only 1 yr old, I learn that both of us are being deprived of the possible benefits of 5 different antibiotics which would combat only one salmonella type. How many more diseases are people being deprived of a cure because the antibiotics have become ineffective?

In other words, the bacteria overcoming our medicines.

I'm speaking of the results of feeding human antibiotics to birds & animals just to enhance their growth & the resulting profits. This is not just a fear phantasy but a fact according to the C.D.C.

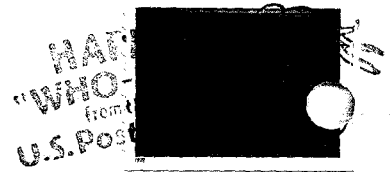

Thus I'm writing you on behalf of myself & family of 4 generations to put a stop to this practice. You are in a position which can prevent these things. Please do so for all of us.

Sincerely,

Wallace Eubanks
