

Analyzing Changes in Voter Participation, Part 2

1. Look at the specifics in the trend in increased voter participation from 1824 and 1828. Did the states in which Jackson won the popular vote show the greatest increase in participation? Point to specific data to support your answer.

2. Look at the decline in voter participation from 1828 to 1832. Do the data on the two charts support the idea that Jackson's virtually assured re-election contributed to the decline in voter participation? Point to specific data to support your answer.

3. Look at the increase in voter participation from 1832 to 1836. Do the data on the two charts substantiate the idea that support for Martin Van Buren, Jackson's handpicked successor, contributed to the increase in voter participation? Point to specific data to support your answer.
