

Figure 1.34: The River Continuum Concept. The concept proposes a relationship between stream size and the progressive shift in structural and functional attributes.

Source: Vannote et al. (1980). Published with the permission of NRC Research Press.