

Denise Geolot, Ph.D., RN, FAAN oversees the operations for the Center for Quality for the Health Resources and Services Administration's programs and their service populations.

Dr. Geolot provides leadership and coordinates Agency wide initiatives that address quality improvement, health literacy and patient safety. Prior to her current appointment, she served as the Director of the Division of Nursing, Bureau of Health Profession, HRSA, HHS. Dr. Geolot has also served as Chairperson of the National Advisory Council on Nurses Education and Practice which provided advice to the Secretary, Department of Health and Human Services and Congress on nursing workforce, education and practice issues. Her educational background includes a baccalaureate degree with distinction from the University of Virginia and Masters of Science degree from the University of Colorado. Her post-masters preparation as a nurse practitioner took place at the University of Virginia and her doctoral education at George Mason University. Among her many awards and honors are the Public Health Service Special Recognition Award for outstanding contributions to nursing; the Life Time Achievement Award from the National Organization of Nurse Practitioner Faculties.