Writing or Renewing an NIH Grant Application??

New Adobe-Based Forms Launch January 2009
New Adobe Reader Software Required!

Most electronic submissions to NIH on or after January 1, 2009, must use Adobe application forms. If you are writing or renewing an electronic grant application, PREPARE NOW to ensure it arrives in the queue on time!

1 Find a Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) and begin developing your research plan now.

2 Install
Adobe Reader version 8.1.3 or later. Incorrect versions will prevent successful submission of your application to Grants.gov!

3 Download the new Adobe application form from the FOA in December 2008.

Support and Resource Links:

Adobe Transition—Quick Links, Transition Time Line, Guide Notices, FAQs. . .
http://era.nih.gov/ElectronicReceipt/adobe_transition.htm

NIH eSubmission Web Site—Electronic Submission Process. . .
http://era.nih.gov/electronicreceipt

Grants.gov Applicant Resources—Software Downloads and Tutorials
http://grants.gov/applicants/app_help_reso.jsp