Purpose & Target Audience:

The meeting will emphasize grant support mechanisms and new science initiatives. NIA staff will describe initiatives designed to recruit and keep emerging investigators in aging. NIA is also interested in addressing needs and barriers to research careers for students, junior faculty and investigators from underserved and underrepresented groups.

The meeting is intended for faculty and students with interest in aging, Alzheimer's Disease, and health disparities among older adults as well as for individuals interested in developing the careers of underserved and underrepresented investigators.
