World Wheat Trade Impacted By Changing Policy And Market Conditions

Year-To-Year Import Changes

Global

EU

Algeria, Morocco, & Tunisia

Changing EU import policy and good weather conditions in North Africa are the primary reasons why world wheat imports will drop by nearly 7.0 million tons in 2003/04. EU wheat imports are forecast to fall by more than 5.0 million tons (50 percent) in 2003/04. A Tariff Rate Quota implemented in January 2003 limits imports of low quality wheat. Much of the quota in 2002/03 was filled by Russia and Ukraine, but exportable supplies from these countries in 2003/04 are limited. While imports of hard spring wheat, generally not produced in Europe, and durum somewhat depend on the quality of the German crop, imports of high quality wheat are expected to be in the 2.5-3.0 million ton range.

Favorable weather conditions have boosted wheat production in Algeria, Morocco, and Tunisia. Consequently, imports are expected to drop by 26 percent (3.6 million tons) to 13.7 million tons, the lowest level since 1991/92. Morocco's imports will fall 1.7 million tons to 1.0 million tons due to more wheat and barley production and better pasture conditions. In Algeria, imports will decline by 0.8 million tons to 4.0 million tons, while Tunisia's imports will fall 1.1 million tons to 0.8 million tons. Buyers in this region will reduce imports as millers and livestock producers use domestic crops and forage supplies.

SITUATION AND OUTLOOK: COMMENTARY AND CURRENT DATA

WORLD WHEAT SITUATION AND OUTLOOK

Year-to-Year Changes: World wheat trade in 2003/04 is forecast at 98.2 million tons, down 6.6 million tons from 2002/03. Global production is down 2.6 million tons, while consumption is estimated down 7.0 million tons. Global stocks are therefore expected to fall by 28.5 million tons to 136.6 million, the lowest level since 1989/90.

Changes from Last Month: The global wheat trade forecast for 2003/04 is up marginally from last month. Global imports are up slightly due to increased purchases by Russia, Ukraine and others. Smaller exports from India and Eastern Europe are overshadowed by exports from Australian, Canada, and Russia. Global production is down 8.1 million tons with smaller crop expectations in Australia, India, Ukraine and Eastern Europe. Ending stocks for 2003/04 are forecast higher because of a bigger U.S. crop.

Price: Early June export quotes for #2 HRW FOB Gulf averaged $135/MT, down $17 from last month.

2003/2004 Trade Changes

Selected Exporters

- Australia up 500,000 tons to 14.0 million as a stocks drawdown largely offsets smaller prospective production.
- Canada up 500,000 tons to 15.0 million due to less export competition.
- Russia up 1.0 million tons to 2.0 million due stronger import demand by nearby countries.
- Eastern Europe down 600,000 tons to 1.7 million with lower projected production.

Selected Importers

- Morocco down 700,000 tons to 1.7 million as a greater share of domestic needs are provided by a near record crop.
- Russia up 500,000 tons to 1.0 million.

- Ukraine up 400,000 tons to 1.0 million due to a smaller crop.

2002/2003 Trade Changes

Selected Exporters

- Australia up 500,000 tons to 11.0 million based on the export pace.
- Russia up 500,000 tons to 13.0 million based on the export pace.
- Ukraine down 800,000 tons to 6.7 million due to sharply higher internal prices.

Selected Importers

- United States up 250,000 tons to 2.0 million based on the import pace.
- Iran down 300,000 tons to 1.5 million based on the import pace.
- European Union up 500,000 tons to 11.0 million based on import licenses.

WORLD RICE SITUATION AND OUTLOOK

Year-to-Year Changes: Global trade in 2003 is estimated at 26.5 million tons, down 1.4 million tons from last year's estimate. Global production in 2002/03 is estimated at 381.4 million tons (milled basis), down 17.2 million tons from 2001/02. Global ending stocks in 2002/03 are estimated at 108.4 million tons, 27.5 million tons below 2001/02; this reduction is mainly in China and India. Global consumption in 2002/03 is estimated at 408.9 million tons.

Price: Export price quotes firmed over the past 4 weeks. Thai 100B increased $7 and is currently quoted at $208 per ton (FOB). This is due in large part to the strengthening of the Thai Baht against the U.S. dollar. Viet 5% climbed to $184 per ton (FOB) early in the month, then fell $4 to $180; up $4 from last month. Prices in Vietnam softened on smaller demand from the Philippines and the absence of new business to Iraq. India's 5% quote has increased $8 for the month and is at $185 per ton as the Government announced a hike in its sale price to exporters. The Government is attempting to slow exports as ending stocks fall to near buffer levels.

The spread between U.S. #2/4 and similar Asian qualities remains about the same as both Asian and U.S. price quotes increased over the past month. The price quote for U.S. long grain grade #2/4 is up $5 at $296 per ton (FOB). U.S. stocks continue to be depleted on strong demand from Latin America, particularly Brazil.

Trade Changes in 2003

Selected Exporters

- United States is up 50,000 tons to 3.6 million based on pace to date and continued demand in key markets such as Brazil and Venezuela.
- South Korea is up 200,000 tons to 300,00 based on anticipated food aid donations to North Korea in the coming months.

Selected Importers

- United States is up 35,000 tons to 425,000 based on increased imports by Puerto Rico from China. The U.S. Jones Act increases the relative shipping cost of trade between the U.S. and Puerto Rico. Consequently, in the recent past, Puerto Rico imported from Australia. Currently, however, lower-than-expected exportable supplies in Australia have forced the buyer to find supplies in China.
- Bangladesh is up 200,000 tons to 700,000 based on insufficient domestic supplies and Indian exports.
- Iran is down 250,000 tons to 750,000 based on sufficient domestic supplies.
- North Korea is up 200,000 tons to 500,000 based on expected food aid donations from South Korea.

WORLD COARSE GRAINS SITUATION AND OUTLOOK

Year-to-Year Changes: World coarse grain trade in 2003/04 is up 1.6 million tons from last year to 101.7 million. Ending stocks are forecast to drop over 18 million tons to 122.2 million, largely due to a drawdown of China's corn stocks. The global stocks-to-use ratio is forecast to be 13.3 percent, the lowest since 1973/74. World consumption is forecast to rise by more than 26 million tons to 921.4 million. Compared to 2002/03, global corn trade is little changed at 75.5 million tons. U.S. exports are forecast to recover by 6.0 million tons to 47.0 million tons.

Changes from Last Month: Global coarse grain trade in 2003/04 is basically unchanged, but trade in 2002/03 is forecast down more than 500,000 tons, mainly due to reduced barley exports from Russia and Ukraine. A reduction in U.S. corn 2002/03 exports is offset by increases in Argentina and Brazil's exports.

2003/04 Trade Changes

Selected Exporters

- South Africa corn exports down 200,000 tons to 1.0 million due to uncompetitive prices and reduced regional import demand.
- Ukraine corn up 300,000 tons to 1.3 million due to a higher production forecast. Barley is down 500,000 tons to 2.5 million because of reduced production prospects.
- EU barley up 500,000 tons to 5.0 million because of reduced competition from Ukraine.

Selected Importers

- Romania barley doubles to 200,000 tons due to a slashed production forecast.

2002/03 Trade Changes

Selected Exporters

- United States corn drops 1.0 million tons to 41.0 million due to the feeble pace of exports.
- Argentina corn up 500,000 tons to 12.5 million based on strong sales.
- Brazil corn up 500,000 tons to 3.0 million due to higher-than-expected production.

Notes:

Wheat trade year statistics are on July/June years. Barley, corn, sorghum, rye, and oats trade year statistics are on Oct/Sept years. Rice statistics are rough basis; trade year statistics are for subsequent calendar year. Rounding errors in conversion from international units cause some discrepancies with World Board Supply and Demand Estimates.
