

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This project was made possible by the support of many persons, agencies, private landowners, and our dedicated staff and crew. Work was conducted under the auspices of Federal Fish and Wildlife Threatened and Endangered Species Permit TE-028605 and Master Banding Permit #23258. Funding was provided by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation (USBR, Contract No. 03-CS-30-0093). Theresa Olson and John Swett from USBR Boulder City provided background information and guidance, and Mark Santee piloted the chopper for a site tour.

Many thanks to the following national wildlife refuges and personnel for all their assistance and for providing housing: John Earl and Tom Alexander at Cibola NWR, Jackie Ferrier and Ken Edwards at Imperial NWR, Kathleen Blair and Dick Gilbert at Bill Williams River NWR, Greg Wolf and Jack Allen at Havasu NWR, and Eddy Pausch at Pahrnagat NWR.

Thanks to the following agencies and personnel for assistance with obtaining permits: Greg Beatty and Sarah Quamme with U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Melissa Kreighbaum with Arizona Game and Fish Department, Jeanne Sealove with Lake Mead National Recreation Area, Emma Benenati with Grand Canyon National Park, John Gustafson with California Department of Fish and Game, Chris Tomlinson and Maureen Hullinger with Nevada Division of Wildlife, Kerry Christensen with Hualapai Department of Natural Resources, Gary White with Cocopah Tribe, and Arlene Kingery and Juliana Comet with Fort Yuma—Quechan Tribe Environmental Department. The following private landowners granted access to their properties: Phillip, Betty, and Angela Reber and Robert Bunker.

A very special thanks to April Woodward, Patrick Dockens, and Alex Smith with the Arizona Game and Fish Department and to Eben Paxton, Patti Newell, Suzanne Cardinal, and Mark Sogge with USGS Southwest Biological Science Center for support and assistance in all phases of the project. Thanks also to Susan Sferra with USBR, Phoenix.

This project would not be a success without our dedicated staff and field personnel. Mike Boyle provided professional, moral, and logistical support. Many, many thanks to Lisa Dickerson and Karen Epperly, who went beyond their administrative duties and coordinated housing, permitting, payroll, vehicles, computers, and telecommunications and handled all manner of crises with cheerful aplomb. Thanks also to Terri Patrick for administrative and accounting support. Thanks to Mike Tam for building our cowbird traps. Cooper Carothers and Yael Bernstein served as river guides, and Valerie Stein and Suzanne Rhodes made color-bands. Thanks to Andy Forde for volunteering his time surveying. And sincere thanks to the 2003 field personnel for hard work, dedication, and sweat.
