

To whom it may concern;
Thank you for considering
new food labeling laws
to include identification of common allergens.

For all those who have Celiac Disease and need to be on a Gluten Free diet,
I asked that Gluten be clearly labelled. Right now, I must call each company to determine if a product is safe to eat. They often change ingredients, so that one food
may be safe for me one week, but not the next -

unfortunately, gluten is often hidden in "wild card"
ingredients, such as food
starch or natural flavorings.
2730 01 SEP 17 12:05
You can imagine how frustrating it is to try to keep both fed and healthy without better labeling. Recent epidemiological studies find 1/200 people have celiac disease, but only 10% are diagnosed, so better labels
are likely to help many more people.

Thank you
Tiffany W

OOP-1355

C 2

T. WIND
671 GRANT ST.
DENVER, CO 80203

Pockets Management Branch
HFA-305
FDA
5630 Fishers Ln Bldg 1061
Rockville - MD 20852

Pocket OOP-1355
Each Day is a Gift...
20857/0001 Make the Most of it!