Dear Mr. Michael A. Friedman,

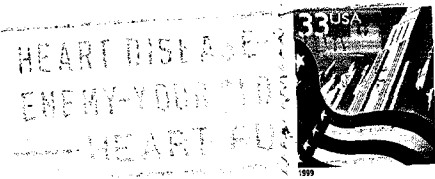

I just wanted to let you know how disgusted I am that the FDA still requires animal tests for pharmaceuticals. It is very inhumane, especially when there are alternatives. The FDA should let companies use in vitro tests to end the suffering of the animals. Please take this under consideration. It's just not right to use animals for any testing. It is very cruel and inhumane.

Sincerely,
Sandy L. Wagner
