Lesley Anne Fair
Division of Advertising Practices
Bureau of Consumer Protection
Federal Trade Commission

Lesley Anne Fair is a senior attorney with fourteen years' experience at the Federal Trade Commission's Division of Advertising Practices, where she specializes in advertising and marketing in new media, including the Internet. She represented the Commission as trial counsel in Norelco, R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Synchronal Corporation, and Gut Buster. She is a recipient of the FTC's "Paul Rand Dixon Award" for Law Enforcement and the Commission's Award for Outstanding Scholarship.

A magna cum laude graduate of the University of Notre Dame, Ms. Fair received a J.D. from the University of Texas School of Law. Upon graduation, she clerked for the Honorable Fred Shannon, United States District Judge for the Western District of Texas, and served as staff law clerk to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit in New Orleans. Before joining the Commission, she practiced criminal law and appeared before the Supreme Court of the United States. She is a member of the State Bar of Texas and the District of Columbia Bar.

On the adjunct faculty of the Catholic University Law School since 1984, Ms. Fair holds the title of Distinguished Lecturer. She serves as an instructor with the Federal Judicial Center, the Food and Drug Law Institute, the National Institute for Trial Advocacy, and the Attorney General's Advocacy Institute. She has contributed chapters to Encyclopedia of the Consumer Movement (Brobeck ed., 1997), and Cosmetic Regulation in a Competitive Environment (Akerson and Estrin eds. 1999).
