

"Connaughton, James L." <jconnaughton@sidley.com>
04/24/2001 09:59:17 AM

Record Type: Record

To: John L. Howard Jr./CEQ/EOP

cc:

Subject: Food for thought from Green Sheets

---

EARLIER GLOBAL COOLING LINKED TO DEFORESTATION

Declining global temperatures between 1000 and 1900 have been linked to deforestation by scientists at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory.

Using computer models, the researchers concluded that areas that cooled the most were hardest hit by deforestation.

The research complicates arguments that planting trees will effectively mitigate global warming caused by greenhouse gas emissions.

Jim Connaughton
Sidley & Austin
1722 Eye Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20006
202-736-8364 (office)
202-255-8719 (cell)
202-736-8711 (fax)
jconnaug@sidley.com

---

This e-mail is sent by a law firm and may contain information that is privileged or confidential. If you are not the intended recipient, please delete the e-mail and any attachments and notify us immediately.