

RADIOACTIVE WASTE DISPOSAL AT THE NEVADA TEST SITE

AN EDUCATIONAL DISPLAY

Attention Public Schools, Home School Organizations,
Colleges, Museums, Libraries, Community Groups,
After-School Programs!

Is there a fact-filled and accurate resource to learn about waste disposal activities at the Nevada Test Site throughout the past half century?

The 'Radioactive Waste Disposal at the Nevada Test Site' educational poster display informs Southern Nevada communities about how the U.S. Department of Energy, National Nuclear Security Administration Nevada Site Office disposes low-level radioactive waste generated by nuclear weapons related activities.

The response to environmental concerns and disposal needs resulting from decades of nuclear weapons related activities is conveyed in an historical perspective, offering an overview of waste management activities at the Nevada Test Site, international agreements on nuclear weapons and weapons testing, and disposal volumes.

U.S. Department of Energy
National Nuclear Security Administration
Nevada Site Office
P.O. Box 98518
Las Vegas, NV 89193-8518
Phone: 702-295-3521
Fax: 702-295-0154
E-mail: envmgt@nv.doe.gov
www.nv.doe.gov

July 2008 DOE/NV--1281

The Display

This standalone display can be used in classrooms, lobbies, libraries, and other open spaces. Complimentary delivery, set-up, and disassembly is provided. The only requirement is sufficient open space for viewing the display, and a secure setting.

Poster dimension is approximately 72" x 48". Poster display unit shown is representative of those available, which include table/counter top or floor models.

Educational Materials

Fact sheets on waste management and other topics regarding environmental management work at the Nevada Test Site are also available. This informational display together with these informative fact sheets makes for a great educational impact. In addition to addressing the topic of waste disposal, the display can function as part of larger discussions and instruction on related environmental issues. All items are free to the public.

Ask about our wide array of poster displays, exhibits, fact sheets, and brochures regarding the environmental management work taking place at the Nevada Test Site!

Also available:

- Groundwater Poster Display
- Transportation Poster Display (and optional mock waste container)
- Operation Clean Desert Exhibit (includes optional lesson plan, activity book and computer game)

702-295-3521

Call Today To Reserve The Display and Ask For Your Free Educational Materials!

safety ❖ performance ❖ cleanup ❖ closure

