12 --> Why are we going down the nuclear road? It's horribly expensive and horribly polluting, the life-cycle costs are ridiculous. For what we've spent on nuclear, we could have put solar photo voltaics on the roofs of thousands of homes.

Ask the people who were downwind of Chernobyl how they feel about nuclear. We have wind, energy efficiency and a million other ways to get energy.

Why are we doing this? ONE WORD: MONEY. Corporate cash dominates our decisions, and our decisions are just plain bad.]
